SANTIAGO IS UNDER FIRE!

SPANISH REFUSE SHAFTER'S TERMS SO MUST SUFFER

Armistice at an End and Soon Santiago Will Be But a Mass of Smoking Ruins.

GENERAL SHAFTER'S HEADQUARTERS NEAR SANTIAGO, July 10, via Port Antonio, Jamaica, per the Associated Press dispatch boat Dandy, July 11th, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 11.---11 A. M.—At 10:30 o'clock this morning General Shafter notified General Taral, the Spanish commander, that by President McKinley's direction that the Spanish commanders at the garrison would be allowed to leave Santiago with their side arms, but if rejected the United States would consider no terms.

General Taral at 2:45 P. M. replied in a brief note that he rejected President McKinley's proposal and would consent to no other terms than those offered by himself.

At 3:25 P. M. General Shafter notified General Taral that the armistice would be terminated and hostilities resumed at 4 o'clock. At the same time he issued instructions to each of the division commanders to prepare for a fresh attack on the Spanish works. These orders have been promulgated from Aguadores to El Caney.

When the courier left with this dispatch, just before 4 o'clock, the artillery was preparing to open on the Spaniards at the end of the armistice. The dynamite guns had been trained on the Spanish blockhouse with such precision that the first shot would obliterate it. The American soldiers will sleep in the trenches tonight. Eight batteries of light artillery will be in position by midnight tonight and the siege guns just landed will be ready for action at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

General Shafter said to a correspondent of the Associated Press:

"General Henry and his division are now landing at Juragua and are coming up as rapidly as possible. Our lines cannot be made more effective, but if the chance offers to increase our strength I will take advantage of it. I shall not be surprised if we have Santiago in three days.

"At El Caney there are 1,000 miserable refugee from Santiago, old men and women, whom the Spanish have permitted to go to our lines to get food. The plight of these helpless people is heartrending. The Americans are doing all they can for them."

CAMARA HASTENS BACK TO SPAIN.

PORT SAID, July 11.—The Spanish armored cruiser Carlos V. and ten transports remain outside of this port, waiting for Admiral Camara, who, on board the Spanish battleship Pelaya, leaves this morning.

The Spanish Admiral was allowed to tranship six hundred tons of coal from the San Augustine last night in the harbor, on furnishing a written guarantee that the Pelayo needed it and that the entire squadron is returning to Spain direct.

ALL HAVE DEPARTED.

PORT SAID, July 11.—The remainder of Admiral Camara's fleet has sailed for Spain.

TORPEDO BOATS ALSO.

MESSINA, Sicily, July 11.—The Spanish torpedo boats sailed for home today.

OUR WOUNDED ARE BOUND FOR HOME.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

GUANTANAMO BAY, July 10, 7 P. M.—The Olivette is here ready to sail at any moment for Hampton Roads with 500 sick and wounded aboard, among them being General Hawkins, Major Brodie, Major J. A. Bell, Captains Thomas T. Knoy, James H. McClintock, and Morton J. Henry, and Lieutenants M. Nichols, J. R. Young, H. R. Devereaux and W. W. Fleshus. It is reported here that the truce has been extended until noon Monday July 11th.

GUNS ROAR OVER THE DOOMED CITY.

Schley Turns Loose For An Hour On Sea Front, While Shafter's Cannon Work Destruction From Land.

ON BOARD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT DANDY, off Aguadores, Cuba, July 10, via Port Antonio and Kingston, Jamaica, July 11, 9:45 A. M.---The Brooklyn, Indiana and Texas, under Commodore Schley, began the bombardment of the city of Santiago at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon in obedience to a request from General Shafter conveyed by a signal from the shore.

The warships lined up from east to west, a quarter of a mile from shore and fired over the limestone cliffs that come down to the sea and hide the city, five miles distant. The bombardment was continued for one hour.

After thirty-five shots had been fired from the eight-inch guns, Commodore Schley became convinced that the Brooklyn's fire was falling short and ordered a cessation, permitting the battleships to continue, they with their large guns having longer range. The shots were fired apparently with great deliberation and at intervals of two minutes. The signals from the shore announced that the shells fell a thousand feet short and a little to the left of the Spanish position. At dusk the squadron ceased firing and Commodore Schley sent a launch to the shore to ask General Shafter if he desired firing continued during the night.

When the Associated Press reporter went aboard the Brooklyn Commodore Schley said he was ignorant of the purpose of the bombardment.

The Associated Press reporter read to him a message secured at Juragua from a mounted courier saying the armistice was ended and hostilities had been resumed.

Commodore Schley said: "General Shafter signaled to me to begin the bombardment as soon as I could get into position. I doubted from the start whether I could hit the city. I had to guess at its location and be careful not to do injury to my own army. If I bombard tomorrow, I shall have range marks on shore to guide me and I shall take the ships closer to the shore than today. The water off Aguadores is so smooth that our marksmanship was not affected by the swaying of the ship.

"In firing today I gave the turrets the greatest possible elevation by listing the ships. But I knew I would fall short. The guns will carry more than five miles, but to throw shots over the cliff great elevation is required."

When the Dandy left Aguadores at 7 o'clock the warships were still in position. During the bombardment the Dandy lay a quarter of a mile behind the line of ships.

When the bombardment began a heavy rain storm was in progress, with thunder and lightning, but artillery fire could be heard on shore, indicating that General Shafter had resumed hostilities immediately on the ending of the armistice.

Following the roar of Commodore Schley's guns could be heard the shrieking of the shells as they went on their way to the doomed city. Then came a long re-echo of the hills back of Santiago and sometimes a clap of thunder prolonged the reverberations and gave the impression that the city was bombarded from the sky, sea and land. The situation must have been appalling to the Spaniards and if General Shafter made the demonstrations for the effect which it would have on the wavering enemy, he probably attained his end.

OUR FLEET MAY CATCH CAMARA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says:

Captain Aunon, the Spanish Minister of Marine says: It will take Admiral Camara's warships, the Pelayo and the Emperador Carlos, ten days to reach Cartagena, where he is more safe than at Cadiz.

The torpedo boat destroyers Osada, Prosperina and Audaz, and the auxiliary cruisers Patriota, Rapido, Buenos Ayres and Isla de Panay, will be back sooner, and will go to Cadiz and to Ferrol.

The danger is that if America dispatches her fastest cruisers here, the Iowa, New York and Oregon, they will waylay Admiral Camara in the Mediterranean. The coast defenses will be ready in ten days.

CRISIS IN SPAIN'S CABINET CANNOT LONG BE AVERTED

Diplomats Urge Peace Before Santiago, Porto Rico and Manila Fall to Americans.

MADRID, July 10, Sunday, via Hendaye, France, July 11.---In spite of the fact that public opinion is divided, it is inclining rapidly in favor of peace, the people becoming more convinced every day of the impossibility of withstanding the power of the United States. The peace party in the cabinet is urging immediate negotiations looking to peace, and Senor Gomazo, the Minister of Public Instruction, threatens to resign if the war party outweighs his influence. The war party, however, urges a continuance of the struggle "to convince America that it is difficult to obtain a prompt triumph for her army, and thus secure for Spain better terms."

There is a split in the Cabinet which will probably result in its resignation and the formation of an intermediary government, because Senor Silvela and the Conservatives are unwilling to incur the responsibility of the peace negotiations for the best obtainable terms are certain to be trying to Spanish pride, which will demand a scapegoat.

The increasing popularity of Senor Sagasta's government, which is supported by the throne regardless of public opinion, may damage the dynasty. The situation is most trying to the Queen Regent, who is suffering more keenly than her subjects, swayed as she is, by outside counsels and by the divided opinions of the Cabinet and nation. Her Majesty must soon decide upon some course of action and will probably form a government with a strong military element, and including the most popular politicians. She began consulting on this subject today and had a long conference with Senor Romero y Robledo.

NEWSPAPERS URGE PEACE.

MADRID, July 11.---9 A. M.---The newspapers of this city openly discuss the imminence of the ministerial crisis owing to the attitude of Senor Gamazon, the Minister of Public Instruction.

The official Correspondencia confirms the report of the Cabinet crisis.

The Imparcial says of Sunday's Cabinet meeting:

"We think importance should be attached to the fact that Spain will reap great advantages in negotiations for peace before Santiago and Manila and perhaps even Porto Rico are captured, as, should the Americans occupy these places their terms will naturally be harder."

The Imparcial also says: "It is most probable that the government will telegraph General Blanco to this effect, urging him to direct the operation of the army towards this solution. On General Blanco's reply depends whether the government commences negotiations immediately without waiting the outcome of the situation at Santiago."

The Liberal publishes an interview with a Minister who is quoted as saying that a Cabinet crisis might occur today, tomorrow or next week, but in in any case it will not be long delayed.

The Minister is said to have added that the crisis would be the cause of the whole Ministry resigning in a body.

HARVARD HAS NOT YET ARRIVED.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 11.—Up to 10 o'clock to-day the U. S. auxiliary cruiser Harvard had not arrived. The report that she came in last night proved to be erroneous, a Philadelphia collier having been mistaken for her.

SHAFTER PLANS TO SURROUND THE WILY SPANIARDS.

It Is Believed His Lines Are So Extended That the Dons Have No Chance to Escape.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Notice from General Shafter to the effect that he proposed to begin the assault and bombardment of Santiago to-day intensified the interest with which the news from the front was being awaited at the War Department, and there were many inquiries at the office of General Alger, beginning in the morning. To all of these but one answer was returned, "General Shafter has been given a free hand to deal with the situation, subject to but one consideration, namely, that the city and the Spaniards must be captured," and he has not informed the War Department as to the details of his plans, further than was indicated in the dispatches received from him yesterday.

The belief here is that the affair of yesterday was of little importance, being perhaps but a feint on the part of the Spaniards to uncover the American batteries, or to discover some weak spot which might be made the point of attack in a sortie, when it comes to that.

The officials here do not conceal their apprehension that the enemy may escape from Santiago under cover of darkness, and are consequently relieved each day when dispatches from the front show that they still occupy the town.

The President himself was so much concerned over the possibility of escape of the Spanish force that he directed the sending of explicit orders to General Shafter to prevent it at all hazards. This fact, taken with the General's dispatch of yesterday, formed the basis of the opinion expressed at the War Department yesterday that Shafter's attack would not be made immediately. It was gathered from these reports that he had not succeeded in extending his lines clear around the city, and it was feared that if he began the attack before completing the circumvallation, the enemy, under the strength of his attack, might escape through the uncovered northwest section and retreat toward Manzanillo over the road traversed by the reinforcements that last reached Santiago. Now, however, Shafter reports that he expects to complete his lines to-day, presumably using for the purpose the reinforcements which reached him Saturday and yesterday, and it is expected that the attack will be no longer delayed.

Several telegrams were received at the Navy Department over night from Admiral Sampson. It is said that they did not relate to the attack on Santiago, but touched on the organization of Watson's fleet and the movement of certain transports which had been the object of inquiry.

BLANCO'S BLOCKADE RUNNER.

Captain General Blanco is making desperate efforts to get in supplies through the American blockade lines. Inspired by the successful attempt of the Purissia Concepcion to land supplies on the island of Cuba, he is now causing to be loaded another steamer at a Mexican port, with the intention of running the blockade and bringing in food and ammunition to the beleaguered capital. This is a large ship of about 3,500 tons, and she already has taken on a bountiful supply of food, and is expected to load 2,000,000 cartridges.

The craft is believed to be the steamer Montevideo, now at Santa Cruz, and protests have been lodged with the Mexican Government by the American Consul there. The Montevideo is an auxiliary cruiser of the Spanish navy, it is said, and carries a considerable battery. Notice of the Montevideo's movements will be communicated to the blockading squadron immediately, and it is entirely improbable that she will be able to repeat the feat of the Purissia Concepcion.

A long list of names of wounded and sick enlisted men came from Tampa, over the wires of the War Department. These names are being carefully verified and arranged in lists by the Department, and as this work is time-consuming, it will scarcely be ready for publication before the close of the day.

DISEMBARKING THE TROOPS AT JURAGUA.

JURAGUA, July 10, VIA THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BOAT TO PORT ANTONIO, Jamaica, July 11, via Kingston, July 11, 9:30 A. M.—The shores of this little cove were the busiest places in Cuba this afternoon. Five thousand men were either disembarking from steamers or preparing to take up the march to General Shafter's headquarters near Santiago. There was as much confusion as if ten circuses were preparing to make camp. The officers were looking for horses and mules, trying to keep their men together, sending sick men to the hospital and attending to rations and baggage. The engineers built a rough wharf of timber to be used in landing.

The First Illinois, numbering 1,350 men, arrived here yesterday and began disembarking last night, and will probably be the first of General Shafter's reinforcements to reach him.

About 950 recruits of the regular army are on the way to the front.

The District of Columbia Infantry, consisting of 915 men, arrived this morning on the Catania, and began loading at once.

The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul has also arrived here with the Eighth Ohio Infantry, 1,350 men.

The steamer is anchored quite a distance from the shore, which necessitates a long pull in the boats to get the men ashore. The landing of troops here is necessarily made in small boats carrying fifteen to twenty men each. The boats run through a light surf and the landing is as safe as a wharf, though the men often get wet.

SLOW WORK WITH LIGHTERS.

It takes a long time to unload regimental stores, horses and mules, which are run ashore on lighters. The artillery will be landed when the wharf is extended. The six batteries of light artillery and siege guns, if fully manned, will require more than 1,000 men and as many animals.

When the Dandy left Juragua it was expected that the whole expedition would be soon strung along the ten miles between the landing place and the front, the infantry going in light order with three days' rations and rain coats.

At 5 o'clock a heavy rain was falling and threatened to make the road disagreeable for the infantry and very bad for the artillery. The Cuban auxiliaries, with rifles and machetes, were out in large force, drawing rations. They seem to have reached a state of semi-starvation and are getting fat.

In spite of the doctors' orders our soldiers bought and ate mangroves and other put fruits. Cocoanuts were very abundant, and the soldiers feasted on them.

THE SOLACE ARRIVES.

During the afternoon the hospital ship Solace arrived here, and all the sick who were able to be moved were taken from the tent hospitals and placed on board of her. The sight of the wounded men had a depressing effect on the volunteers. It is rumored here that General Shafter strongly advised the acceptance of General Toral's offer to surrender if allowed to leave with the troops wearing their side arms, and the American commander is said to have sent a long dispatch to McKinley making arguments in favor of the acceptance of the Spaniard's offer.

General Shafter is said to have urged the advisability of gaining immediate possession of Santiago Harbor, and city so as to leave our fleeted army to undertake other work. According to a report, General Shafter said the acceptance of General Toral's offer would save the soldiers and enable us to begin the relief of the starving Cubans immediately. The advantage to the Spaniards General Shafter is also said to have pointed out, will not be large. President McKinley's response was as laconic as was General Grant's upon a similar occasion.

NEW CRUISER FOR OUR NAVY.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The cruiser Chicago, reconstructed and with increased speed, early next month will leave the New York Navy Yard, after having been in the hands of workmen for several years. Few will recognize in the new Chicago the vessel that flew Rear Admiral Erben's flag and was commanded by Captain Mahan, now a member of the Board of Strategy in Washington, for she is practically a new ship, the only remaining original part of her being the iron hull.

When the Chicago went out of commission she was bark-rigged with three sail masts, but when she slips out of the dry dock she will have only two masts, neither of which will carry sails. They will be military masts, like those on the others of Uncle Sam's fighting ships, which will give to the rejuvenated cruiser a more warlike appearance.

Her armament has also undergone material changes. Her main battery, formerly consisting of four eight-inch, eight six-inch, and two five-inch breech-loading rifles, will be augmented by fourteen five-inch rapid-fire guns in addition to her secondary battery, which will consist of all the latest models of small rapid-fire guns.

BANK OF SPAIN'S COIN HOLDINGS.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MADRID, July 11.—The following are the increases in the gold and silver holdings in the Bank of Spain for the week ended Saturday: Gold, 8,853,000 pesetas; silver, 6,525,000 pesetas. The note circulation increased 17,833,000 pesetas.

WHY CERVERA WENT TO SANTIAGO.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A special to the World from Portsmouth, N. H., says: Admiral Cervera's explanation to a naval officer as to why he took the fleet into Santiago was that he expected to provision and coal and get away inside of twenty-four hours, but this was found to be impossible owing to the tropical methods employed in handling coal. General Blanco was communicated with, and the presence of two fleets in Yucatan channel and the Windward Passage was announced.

BRYAN TO JOIN LEE.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Wm. Jennings Bryan's regiment of Nebraska Infantry to-day were ordered to join General Fitzhugh Lee's corps at Jacksonville.

NORWEGIAN SHIP CAPTURED.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A special to the Journal from Playa del Este, dated Sunday, states that the Norwegian freight steamer Bratton was captured on that day by the Brooklyn. She had on board a cargo of supplies for Santiago, sent by merchants at Kingston and Port Antonio for speculation. She was tied up until the fleet enters Santiago.

REVISED LIST OF OUR LOSSES.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Adjutant General Corbin received to-day from General Shafter a revised and corrected report of the casualties before Santiago on July 1, 2, and 3. It slightly increases the number of killed and wounded, as given in his first report, and is as follows:

Killed, 23 officers, 208 men; wounded, 80 officers, 1,203 men; missing, 81. Total, 1,595. General Shafter is of the opinion that the number of missing will be reduced somewhat.

HOSPITAL TRAIN IN A COLLISION.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Surgeon General Sternberg received a dispatch today from Surgeon Richards stating that the hospital train bearing the wounded to Fort McPherson, near Atlanta, was in a rear end collision six miles south of High Springs, Fla., at 8 P. M. last night. No one was hurt, but the private car was demolished. Surgeon Richards expected the train to proceed and reach Fort McPherson at 1 o'clock today. General Sternberg says the demolition of the private car will not seriously interfere with the efficiency of the hospital train.

TORAL'S TERMS.

(Copyright 1898 by Associated Press.)

SIBONEY, SANTIAGO PROVINCE, July 10, 8 P. M., via Playa del Este, BY THE ASSOCIAED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT CYNTHIA III.—There are only seventy-five wounded men in the hospitals here who are being treated for serious amputations or bone fractures. In the hospitals at the front there are no wounded soldiers. The serious cases and all the rest of the wounded are on board the hospital ship Relief or on the transports bound north.

The situation from a sanitary point of view is susceptible to much improvement.

The landing of the reinforcements is progressing rapidly. All the men of the First Illinois Regiment, six battalions of light artillery and 815 recruits from the regular infantry are now ashore, and it is probable the Eighth Ohio men from the St. Paul will be landed by tomorrow. A coal laden schooner, the Stencens, drifted against the hospital ship Relief, and both would have drifted ashore but for the prompt assistance rendered them by the Cynthia III.

General Shafter held a conference with the American Generals at the front today, concerning the offer made by the Spanish commander, General Toral, to surrender Santiago if the Spanish garrison were allowed to march out with the side arms and have twenty miles start without molestation. General Toral agreed that if this was accepted he would not destroy the ships in the harbor, the ammunition in the forts or the buildings in the city. The majority of the Generals, General Wheeler leading, are in favor of the acceptance of these terms on the grounds that the Spaniards can march out to the westward anyhow, burn the city and destroy all the vessels, guns and ammunition before leaving.

Food and water are very scarce in Santiago. One biscuit was recently sold for $5 in gold.

The Cuban auxiliaries were put to work this morning, policing the camps at this place.

It is earnestly hoped that Dr. Guiterrez will order all the buildings here to be burned immediately, and thus reduce the chances of the spread of a serious epidemic.

HOT BRURH WITH DONS.

(Copyright 1898 by Associated Press.)

GUANTANAMO BAY, July 9, via Playa del Este, Province of Santiago de Cuba, July 9 (delayed in transmission)—A steam launch from the repair ship Vulcan, which, with the Marblehead, has been doing patrol duty in the narrows leading from the lower to the upper bay, ventured too near the Spanish fort just after daylight today and ran into a hornet's nest.

As a result of the men's anxiety to locate the small Spanish gunboat Sandoval, which is known to be in the vicinity of tance beyond the patrol limits, and the the fort, the Americans went quite a dis- Spanish pickets located along the bluff suddenly opened fire upon the launch with Mauser rifles, which was followed by volleys from the soldiers in the forests.

The launch replied with her one-pounder, but the firing of the Spaniards was entirely too heavy for the little boat to contend against, and she beat a hurried retreat. Although the launch was under fire for ten minutes, she was not hit once.

SANTIAGO'S FALL HOURLY EXPECTED

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, July 11, noon.—Secretary Long, Admiral Sicard, Captain Mahan and Captain Crowninshield of the Naval War Board are in conference with the President at the White House. Secretary Long stated on reaching the White House that in his opinion the fleet had so far taken no part in the day's engagement. Otherwise, he said, Admiral Sampson would have reported, which he had not done.

After leaving the naval conference at 1 o'clock, Secretary Long said that nothing had been received indicating that a decisive engagement was on at Santiago on the part of either the army or the fleet.

In answer to an inquiry, the Secretary said he expected to get news of the fall of Santiago at any hour, but added, however, that his expectation was based largely on his hopes. The indications are that all truces are off and that the final struggle may now be on.

DETECTIVES CAPTURE A BURGLAR BOLD.

Henry Rudolph, the Man Who Robbed the Store of Theo. Gier.

Detectives Quigley and Holland made an important arrest this morning, when they captured Henry G. Rudolph, who confessed to having robbed the store of Theo Gier on the night of the 3d.

D. EDWARD COLLINS GOES TO OMAHA.

Will Represent This District at the Republican League Convention.

D. Edward Collins left Saturday night for Omaha, where he will attend the National Convention of the League of Republican Clubs. While there were several delegates elected from this district, Mr. Collins is the only one who will be in attendance. He is a stalwart Republican and a thoroughly able man, and the interests of this district may well be entrusted to his care. Mr. Collins expects to reach Omaha Tuesday night, and will be on hand when the convention opens Wednesday. He will be absent about two weeks.

FERRY DEPOT NOW READY FOR BUSINESS.

Railroad Company Not Anxious to Use Both Floors.

Barricaded the Entrance to the Ladies Decorated Landing.

CLASH WITH THE AUTHORITIES.

Harbor Commission Intends That the Public Shall Receive Full Accommodations.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The magnificent ferry building was finally opened for business today but owing to a misunderstanding between the Southern Pacific and the Harbor Commissioners, passengers are not having the benefit of the fine accommodations the building affords.

The depot is so arranged that the crushing that has always characterized the ferry service would be made impossible. The means of going aboard the boats has been doubled and passengers can now either go aboard from the floor or the first story.

This new arrangement was made especially for the benefit of ladies and children who have hitherto been forced to go on the lower deck of the steamers and to use the same gangway as teams and Chinese peddlers who largely make up the occupants of the lower deck.

In order to show off the new conditions to the utmost the Harbor Commissioners had beautifully decorated the upper floor for the ladies. Flowers and ferns and palms were artistically and generously used and the large building was a veritable picture.

When the passengers made an attempt to ascend the steps leading to the upper gangway to the ferry boat, they were surprised to find an iron barrier placed across the foot of the stairs. Inquiry revealed the fact that the Southern Pacific Company had caused it to be placed there. Word was at once sent to the Harbor Commissioners.

One of the Commissioners went to the railroad company's offices and demanded that the whole building be used by the company or that it desist from using any of it. The company's officers declared that to use both means of entrance to the boats would necessitate two sets of ticket men and attendants, and that they did not intend to go to such additional expense.

The company was then given formal notice that it could not be permitted to use the lower floor unless it used both, and the matter is in abeyance.

The magnificent building was greatly admired by all who inspected it. The arrangements are perfect. The Board of Harbor Commissioners has produced a building of which the whole State can feel proud.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

Judge Crane, the Experienced Lawyer, Dies at an Advanced Age.

Death has called away another pioneer in the person of Henry F. Crane, an attorney, who left the imprint of genius and capacity for work in all he has done both before the courts in this and other States, as also before the highest legal tribunal of the nation. He passed away quietly yesterday, at his home, 1721 Thirteenth avenue, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

The deceased was the father of Miss Bessie Crane and William W. Crane, the receiving teller in the Union National Bank of this city.

Judge Crane was born in St. Lawrence county, New York, and there he made his study of the law. After having been admitted to practice, he moved to Wisconsin, and thence to Washington Territory, where he became Judge of the Probate Court. He removed to California in 1860, and went into the practice of the law in San Francisco. He was particularly successful in land litigation, more especially with United States Government land. In a case which was decided only about two years ago in the United States Supreme Court, where was involved the ownership of large tracts of land near Mt. Diablo, Mr. Crane was the attorney for the plaintiff.

He was defeated in the United States Circuit Court, but, on appeal to the United States Supreme Court, the action of the lower court was reversed, and the decision of the highest tribunal was given almost in the language used in Crane's brief.

In 1875 Mr. Crane settled in San Leandro. He held an office in this city for many years, and finally moved here, but of late years, owing to ill health, he has not been in active practice of his profession.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning, from the family residence, at 11:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Masonic Cemetery and will be private.

BRAY TROUBLES END SATISFACTORILY.

The Bray district school troubles have been finally settled. At a meeting held Saturday evening it was decided by a vote of 48 to 24 to accept a site 125x145 feet in dimensions, situated at the southeast corner of Washington and Merrill avenues. This lot is the gift of Mr. E. Brugniere.

One of the conditions of the gift is that the district receive some other name than Bray and it is proposed to name it Dewey district.

The district is to be allowed to purchase seventy-five feet adjoining the donated lot at a reasonable price.

NEW YORK BOYS WILL BE SENT TO HONOLULU.

Colonel Henshaw's Regiment Is Not Going to Hawaii, as Had Been Generally Expected.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary Alger today issued orders attaching the Hawaiian Islands to the military department of California. The First New York Volunteers, Colonel Barber commanding, will be assigned for the time at the garrison at Honolulu. Colonel Barber is considered an especially good officer for the post.

General Otis has charge of the principal troops for the islands, and hopes by the 15th or a little later to secure four coast vessels with a capacity of 1,200 men.

LIVELY BATTLE AT MANZANILLO.

OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 8.—Captain Adolph Marix of the converted yacht Scorpion, and Captain Purcell of the Osceola, had a hot time on July 3 at Manzanillo, where they had established a blockade.

Manzanillo has until lately been unguarded and the Spanish have used it for a port of supplies. General Pando and his branch of the army is there. It was decided to lock the stable door last week, and on Sunday, July 3, the Scorpion and Osceola were before the place. It is a long, deep bay, and a close examination by Marix convinced him that its defense was one small fort and four gunboats. On Sunday Captain Marix decided to go in after the gunboats, and so signalled to Captain Purcell. Captain Marix tells the story as follows:

"Imagine our surprise upon finding that instead of gunboats and a small fort, the shore was lined with artillery and infantry. The fire we poured into them was a desperate one, considering that we did not have any protection for our men or the guns. For twenty-five minutes we stayed at it, and I think we did a lot of damage. We were frequently hit, and at last when a shot had cleaned our galley and I saw it was useless to risk the men's lives, we moved out.

"The gunboats lay behind the hills, and we could not get at them. We moved out slowly and the fire ceased. The next morning we captured a large lighter and a sloop filled with provisions. No attempt was made by the gunboats to come out to the defense of their ships. The Spanish steamer Purissia Concepcion, which had been around the coast looking for a place to land money and provisions, is in the harbor and has discharged her cargo.

KILLED AND WOUNDED IN YESTERDAY'S FIGHT

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The War Department has posted the following dispatch from General Shafter:

PLAYA DEL ESTE, July 11.—Adjutant-General, Washington: Headquarters near Santiago, July 11.—Following report of casualties in the First Division yesterday afternoon just received:

Killed—Captain Charles W. Rowell, Second Infantry, and Private Peter Nelson, Company A, Second Infantry.

Wounded.—Lieutenant N. J. Lutz, Second Infantry; Private Charles Jenks, Company A, Second Infantry; Private Charles Lemid, Company B, Second Infantry, and Private Nelson Gilbert Jr., Twenty-first Infantry.

THREE DISPATCHES FROM GEN. SHAFTER

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The War Department today made public three dispatches from General Shafter received today. The following was received at 10:30 A. M.: "Playa del Este—The navy has promised after the bombardment begins to get in close to the harbor with some of their light-draft boats. If the bombardment tomorrow (today) is not quickly conclusive they will make the attempt. As soon as Henry's reinforcements arrive we will surround the town, and can knock it to pieces with our light guns. Captain Goodrich of the St. Louis assisted me very ably in disembarking troops."

Twenty-three minutes later the following was received:

"My plans for tomorrow are to keep up the bombardment of the trenches and city and complete the investment on the northwest by the troops which have just arrived at Siboney, one regiment of which, the First Illinois, has now reached me."

Soon after noon the following was received:

"I regret to report that Captain Rowell, Second Infantry, was killed late yesterday afternoon."

SWALES-REED WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday evening when Miss Aimee Reed, daughter of Charles Reed, became the bride of Howard D. Swales. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, 1257 Filbert street, and was witnessed by only the immediate families and intimate friends. The house was charmingly decorated with masses of La France roses and pink Japanese peppies. During the ceremony the bridal couple stood beneath a lovers' knot of pink roses. The coming of the bride was heralded by the singing of the wedding march from Lohengrin by a trio of young ladies. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white silk organdie trimmed with ribbons and carried a loose cluster of Bermuda lilies. She was attended by Miss Mabel Linden Reed and Miss Eva Reed, who were gowned alike in pink silk with white organdie overdress. Robert D. Swales was best man. Dr. E. S. Chapman was the officiating clergyman.

After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Swales left on their wedding trip which will be of two weeks' duration.

A NATIONAL IRON LEAGUE.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Tribune today says:

The Iron League, which is composed of most of the principal firms in this city engaged in the manufacture and erection of architectural iron and steel work, is forming a national organization, into which it is proposed to take all the large firms in the principal cities.

This move is viewed with apprehension by the Housesmith's and Bridgemen's Unions. These are the men who put up the iron and steel frames of all buildings.

An attempt on the part of the men to form a more perfect organization is also being made at the present time.

THE GRAPE CROP INJURED BY THE HEAVY DROUTH.

Livermore Valley Will Yield But a Light Harvest.

Only a One-Third Return Is Expected by Leading Viticulturists.

The Herald of Livermore in his county sums up the prospects of the grape crop in the vineyards near that city, the present season as follows:

The outlook for this year's grape crop in Livermore valley is not encouraging. With weather favorable from now up to vintage the grape men say that the most they could expect would be one-third of an ordinary crop, which is not to be gauged by last year's big yield. If the heat becomes excessive to any extent between now and vintage the percentage will drop to one-fifth and some of the vineyards will have no yield.

In conversation yesterday with Mr. Julius Paul Smith, who recently arrived from New York, he said:

"Having completed a survey of my vines on this place, I find the pruning has been regular, the land in good tilth, and everything conducted a la mode as though nature had smiled benignly upon Olivina and a good crop was contemplated, but the restricted rainfall has left its impress upon the valley. The stunted fruit and grain crop and the withered pasture lands bear evidence of the crying want of moisture, and as to the vineyards indubitable evidence of drought influence confronts one at every turn.

"With the many varying soils and exposures devoted to vines in this vineyard, even a cursory examination will disclose a material difference in the condition of vines and crop promise.

"The loamy low lands carry a fair wood growth and fruitage but the slopes and hill sides, where gravel or clay predominates, the arrest in wood growth and diminution of grape clusters is very pronounced.

"In surveying these uplands, thinly covered with foliage and fruitage, I am lead to the unpleasant suspicion that the arch enemy of the vineyards, phylloxera, is everywhere sapping the vitality of the vine. The stunted wood growth suggests something more than lack of moisture, and I fear this year will be as memorable in the deterioration of our vines as the lack of grape yield.

"As to an estimate of the crop this year; it is very problematical, as much depends upon the season. To generalize would sum up a one-half crop prospect with the fair, bad and indifferent promises, but would expect ideal conditions to prevail.

"Should the foliage go early by reason of lack of moisture induced by blighting sun rays, the grapes would shrivel away and a one-fourth crop, doubtless, would be all the recompense had out at the Olivina. Judging from past seasons I look for blight, sun-burn, and shriveling up of the growing crop and I commend Mr. Barker's judgment in having removed about one-half of the clusters while suckering the vines, thus allowing better development for the vines.

"Looking at this situation from another standpoint assuming that the conditions that obtain in his valley are indicative of the drought conditions in other vine districts of the State I opine that the shortage in the crop harvest is not altogether an unmixed evil. We want the buyer, like the village schoolmaster, "abroad in the land." We want no pretext for low prices. Let a veritable shortage prevail but the phylloxera, well, this is a scourage and none may escape this fell destroyer.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly
But they grind infinitisimally small"
And the maw of the gall louse unholy
Doeth all our vineyards enthrall.

Mr. Charles A. Bon says that there promises to be a fairly good crop on the gravelly soil at Mont Rouge with the whites averaging better than the other varieties. On the other soils at Mont Rouge, Mr. Bon says that the yield will be in patches only. One vine will show a good growth while the next one, only a few feet away, is practically barren. It is not absolutely known what the cause is of this character of growth, but it is possible that it is in the different stratas of earth that feed the bottom roots.

The Rose vineyard at Pleasanton is said to be away back in growth and the prospects are not bright for even the lightest kind of a yield.

Mr. C. L. Crellin of Ruby Hill says that never in the history of vintage in Livermore Valley has he seen such poor prospects. On some of the vines there is no growth whatever, this being particularly the case on the low spots of ground. The Schween vineyard, Mr. Crellin says, is about in the same condition as that of Ruby Hill.

Daniel Inman believes that it is too early yet to make any predictions for this season's vintage.

The Vienna vineyards, Mr. E. C. Hahn says, will produce two-thirds of an ordinary crop, or about one-half of last year's enormous yield.

Mr. D. McNally, who is one of the best posted men in the valley on the vine and wine situation, does not expect one-third of an ordinary yield throughout the valley, "If there were any prospects for the grapes ripening," said Mr. McNally, "we could look for one-half of a crop on some of the vineyards while others under the most favorable weather conditions will have practically no yield. On the red lands, the vines will be a failure, but in the gravelly soil, which still retains some moisture, there will be a small yield providing the weather does not become too warm.

At Oak Spring Vineyard the bunches are looking good but the foliage is lacking in growth.

The foliage on the Wente, Waggoner and Concannon vineyards is looking excellent and a small yield may be expected.

The vineyard of Mrs. Henry Callahan has been topped, the work being completed last week. The vines are in splendid condition and are bearing well.

On the gravelly land of the Demorest vineyard the vines are fair but on the red land there will be no crop.

Miss Helen C. Reed, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Reed of Berkeley, and Max M. Brown, son of the hardware merchant, Charles Brown, were married yesterday at 6:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Adolph Ottinger, 1301 Page street, San Francisco. Rev. E. Stark of the Temple Emanu-El officiated. Although relatives only were the guests, every appointment was most dainty, and an elaborate supper followed. The bride was given away by her father, and attended by her best friend, Miss Esther Kominsky, as maid of honor. Millard Ottinger, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer, and Ella Ottinger, her niece, was flower girl. The wedding gown was of white silk mulle over white taffeta, and a cloud of tulle veiled the pretty bride. Her maid wore white organdie over pink. After a wedding trip through Yellowstone Park and the East, which will occupy two months, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at 910 Devisadero street.

Alfred Cohen gave a dinner last Friday in honor of Colonel Carrington and Colonel Henshaw.

Mrs. S. R. Osgood gave a small patriotic luncheon last week.

Mrs. Isaac Requa will give a benefit for the Red Cross shortly at Highland when Miss Hattie Nathan will appear in monologues.

Dr. J. P. Dunn and Deputy District Attorney A. A. Moore, Jr., have returned from Catalina Island where they spent a week in fishing and hunting goats.

Madeline Todd, daughter of Dr. J. Hamilton Todd, is visiting her uncle, Dr. T. M. Todd of Auburn.

The two eldest sons and three daughters of Mrs. F. H. Bell of Auburn are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Aldrich, in this city.

Miss Bessie Cotton is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hoag and family of Santa Rosa.

The Misses Kattie Hanley and Mayme Cogue of West Oakland are spending the summer with relatives at Glenwood and on their return will stop for a month at Los Gatos.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex T. Stewart left Saturday for Pacific Grove.

Madeline Marie Walding, the little 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Walding, is spending her vacation with friends in Sacramento and with her grandparents in Yolo county.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robbins are at Deer Park Inn, Lake Tahoe. Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Adams are also sojourning at this delightful resort.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Sophie Snow of Santa Cruz to O. C. Bryan of this city.

Miss Hope Woodbury, daughter of Charles J. Woodbury, formerly of this city, has announced her engagement to Mr. E. Y. Gibson, a prominent young business man of Milwaukee. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place in the early winter. The young people will make Milwaukee their future home.

Mrs. Willard Williamson has returned to the Rued's camp at Mt. Olivet.

Payne Shafter and his family are on their ranch near Olema in Marin county. Miss McElrath is with them.

Miss Enid Yale is at Olema, Marin county, for a month.

Miss McClymonds and Miss Gretchen Brunson of Alameda are at the Rued's camp, Mt. Olivet.

Mrs. Potter and Miss Hannah Potter of Oakland are at Sanhedrin Heights, also Miss Helen Gompertz and Miss Anita Gompertz of Berkeley.

J. T. Gardiner, of the firm of Torrey & Gardiner, is spending his summer vacation in Los Gatos and the Santa Cruz mountains, and is regaining the strength which he lost in his recent illness.

Mrs. Helen Kelly, who has been seriously ill at Fabiola Hospital for some time, is once more able to resume her duties as Superintendent of the Associated Charities.

A party of Oakland and Alameda people recently drove to Redwood City in a fine four-in-hand, and spent a few days in a pleasant camp at Harrison. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Searle, Mr. and Mrs. Vandercook, Mr. and Mrs. Mayhew, Miss Cole, Miss Griswold, and G. O. Mitchell.

Frank Trower gave a yachting party aboard the Newark on the Fourth. The trip was made to Angel Island and other points of interest, lunch being served on the yacht. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Diehl, Miss May Cobbledick, Miss Fannie Cobbledick, Miss Emmie Cobbledick, Miss Violet Trower, Miss Sadie Harris, Miss Susie Mayle, Miss Mabel Glass, Miss May Morton, Miss Edith Percy, Frank Trower, Albert Trower, Charles Trower, Lester Elliott, Hubert Graham, A. POPULISTS TO OPEN BATTLE ON THE MORROW.

Maguire's Fate Will Be Decided in Caucus.

Several Alamedans Being Mentioned For High Offices.

Sacramento is now in possession of the Populists. Tomorrow they will open their State convention and the great fight between the fusionists and the middle-of-the-road men will commence.

The strength of the respective wings of the party will be known tonight when a caucus will be held after the meeting of the State Committee.

Although at Washington Congressman Maguire is the central figure of the gathering. The great subject to be decided is shall Maguire be nominated for Governor or shall an out-and-out Populist be taken up. As goes the Governorship so goes the rest of the ticket.

While the Populists deny that they do politics, in the ordinary sense of that term, the indications are that they will do more of that same politics than the conventions of all the other parties combined. While the contest will be nominally over fusion, it will in fact be for the offices. Congressmen Barlow and Castle, the fusion representatives of the Sixth and Seventh districts, want to go back to Congress, and it was because of these ambitions that the fight for fusion in the State ticket and against the middle-of-the-roadsters was started.

There is a strong opinion among some of the delegates that Governor Budd would like to be renominated and this element is working hard to overthrow the nomination of Maguire, but while the Maguire men claim they will have 140 votes in the convention of 353 delegates, to start with, they have no figures in detail, and the uncertainty of their figures is apparent from the fact that as yet they have failed to make a positive declaration that Maguire is in the fight for the Populist nomination, saying that they are awaiting developments, and until they shall have counted noses tonight may not put him in the fight at all. For the nucleus of their support they took to Los Angeles with nineteen delegates, San Francisco with twenty-nine, Alameda with twenty and San Bernardino with seven. This is a false estimate, because it is well known that out of Alameda's twenty delegates four and possibly six are pronounced anti-fusionists, and are led by Bretz, who claims to be able to convert a few more.

For Attorney-General or Secretary of State E. A. May of Tulare is in the race. Assemblyman J. W. Kegan of Sonoma is mentioned as a candidate for State Controller and N. A. Richardson of San Bernardino is willing to be tried out again for Superintendent of Public Instruction. C. S. Preble of Berkeley would like to be Surveyor-General, and F. B. Brown of Santa Clara, clerk of the Supreme Court.

For the Supreme Court Green Majors of Alameda is well favored. The Silver Republicans from the South who are on the spot, are backing Judge Van Dyke of Los Angeles in the event of fusion. For Railroad Commissioners, J. M. Bassett, A. Bretz of Oakland, Charles B. Johnson of Ukiah and Assemblyman J. L. Dryden of San Diego are spoken of. E. M. Hamilton of Colusa would accept a nomination for the State Board of Equalization.

George W. Baker of this city, the well known Silver Republican leader, is at Sacramento doing all he can to further the interests of the free silver men. The Alameda county delegation goes up today.

IMPOSSIBLE TO MAKE UP SLATES.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—Delegates to the Populist State convention are crowding into the city today. Besides these delegates there are numerous representatives of the Democratic and Silver Republican party all here to urge fusion.

The convention will meet in the Assembly chamber of the Capitol at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and before adjournment is reached the indications are that there will be a bitter fight between the fusionists and the middle-of-the-road men.

The latter are redhot for T. W. H. Shanahan of Shasta, at present a member of the Code Commission, for the nomination for Governor, while the fusionists are desirous of giving the nomination to James G. Maguire of San Francisco.

While efforts will be made this afternoon and tonight to fix up slates, it is not believed that much can be accomplished in that direction, and that if the slates are made today they would be smashed tomorrow.

MOTHER DID NOT WANT HER SON TO ENLIST.

Seeks to Secure His Release on Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Mrs. C. C. Wing of Haywards appeared before Judge Morrow of the United States Circuit Court last Saturday in an attempt to secure the release of her 16-year-old son, Wallace Ray Wing, from the Sixth United States Artillery. The mother petitioned on writ of habeas corpus, alleging that the boy entered service without her consent.

Major F. C. Grugan, in command of the battalion, responded to the petition, averring that the boy was discharged by order of the Secretary of War on June 8, 1898, and that since that day he has not been seen.

The family live in Haywards.

MONDAY.....JULY 11, 1898.

The vast outpouring at the funeral of Senator Denison was but a fitting tribute to the general esteem in which he was held. The community can ill afford to lose men of his caliber.

The health of Oakland was better last month than for any other June since 1882. This is a good proof that the germ crusade, the anti-expectoration ordinance and so forth have not been in vain and it also speaks well for the thorough watch that is being kept over the sanitary conditions of the city by the present administration.

Editor Dungan didn't succeed in going to the war, but since putting on his coat of mail again at Woodland, he is going to do some crusading anyhow. Governor Budd, it is needless to say, is the object of his attack and as Dungan has had to lay down his sword he is trying to prove the truth of that old saying about the might of the pen.

Francis the Healer has now taken unto himself the title of "Reverend," so that he can the better create an impression on the minds of the credulous. After all, what he is claiming to do by religion is much the same as the "Boy Wizard" essayed at the Macdonough a year or so ago. The wizard, though, was after the coin pure and simple, and so well did he succeed that it is said he took $10,000 out of the State. He evidently believed in the theory that while he was healing other people there was nothing like getting well-heeled himself.

Cupid has no cause for regret over the fact that Mars has had the ascendancy in public affairs of late. A number of weddings have already resulted from the mustering in of the boys in blue for somehow a uniform will stir up the latent passion in the female heart quicker and surer than anything else, excepting money. The marriages that have already taken place by no means ends it either, for the number of vows that have been exchanged is a warning to old Hymen that he will have to put his overalls on and get to work as soon as the war is over—that is, if the pledges are kept.

They say that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire and it is to be hoped that the old adage applies to the rumors that are from time to time circulated regarding connecting the Santa Fe with the Valley Road. They are abroad now stronger than ever, and this time they have gone to the extremity of declaring that some of the preliminary contracts for the work have been let. There is no doubt that sooner or later the link will be made, for it is the natural sequence of the building of the two lines in question. It is also reasonably certain that the connection will be effected via the Tejon Pass, for that is the natural highway over the mountains into the Southern country.

The necessity of stamping conveyances of property to the full amount of the value of the land in question is going to bring about a lot of interesting questions. For instance, when a man conveys a piece of land to his wife for the consideration of "love and affection," there will be no actual basis of value of the property such as always exists in other transfers and the affixing of the revenue stamps will therefore have to be more or less a matter of guesswork. As a matter of advice to those conveying property in any way during this period of stamp taxation, it may be said that it will be better to err a little on the side of over-estimate of values rather than the other way for otherwise the title may be subject to attack in the future.

Although the formal opening of the new ferry building across the bay occurs today, it will be a couple of months anyhow before the final touches of the workmen are completed. It has progressed far enough, though, to be ready for all practical purposes and is a monument of enterprise that the people can thoroughly appreciate, for there is scarcely any other public place that is more generally used. The building is remarkably handsome and substantial, and although it has cost about double what was originally estimated, the expenditure can be well afforded, considering it graces the door to the western continent. What with the conveniences of the new depot and the twenty-minute ferry service that is to go into effect in a few weeks, Oaklanders can congratulate themselves over the added accommodation they are to enjoy.

A CAMP OF SICKNESS.

Whether or not the troops now encamped at Camp Merritt are to go to the Philippines or to Honolulu is a matter of absorbing interest over there just now, not only because they are tired of having their "swords rusting in their scabbards" but because they are anxious to escape from the unwholesome conditions that now prevail. The authorities in charge and the wiser element among the men themselves are very much worried over the heavy mortality and sickness that has attended their encampment for although they are located in one of the healthiest large cities in the world the percentage of maladies and fatalities has been far out of the ordinary.

An average of one man a day has died since the troops comare from ther died since the troops went into camp and the general sickness at the present time is alarming. 120 men out of one regiment alone being on the sick list. It is not hard to trace the cause of all this. Most of the troubles are those of pneumonia or other lung disorders and arise from the varied conditions the troops have had to confront. In the first place scarcely any of them are acclimated and as they in the main came from interior states where they have been used to hot torrid weather during the summer months, the bleak ocean winds that almost continuously sweep over the peninsula find their constitutions wholly unprepared for the climatic severity.

There is another prime cause too and although it is one that the men themselves could as a rule check, it is hard to get them to do so for it is next to impossible to make a lot of strong, healthy, young men take proper care of themselves. It consists of the dangers that follow any protracted drilling. The men are put through their manoevers in sheltered places and as they have to wear full uniforms and carry their heavy guns, they as a rule are perspiring very freely by the time the drill is over. Instead of their guarding against colds they are more inclined to doff their jackets and lay down in their tents the result being that the sudden chill affects their lungs and lays a foundation for pneumonia.

The further fact that the men are in an unsewered part of town and are not properly provided with accommodations for washing their clothes and keeping themselves clean undoubtedly cuts considerable figure in the case for although the majority of them take advantage of the big public baths, there are many too lazy or too diffident to obey the laws of nature in that way. The lesson is proving a costly one both to themselves and to the Government and although it is a little late to remedy matters now, provision should be made against a repetition of affairs in the future. When the troops return from Manila they will probably have to be "encamped hereabouts for awhile so meantime the Government should make arrangements to put the military reservation at the Presidio into proper order for their reception. It is a mistake to coop up several thousand men on unsewered lots in the heart of town and as there is plenty of room at the Presidio it should be put in shape and thorough bathing and washing facilities provided. Uncle Sam at least owes to his boys in blue all the comforts and sanitary accommodations that can be provided for them while at their own hearth—they have enough to contend with in that line when they are away.

Captain Bob Evans' dictated story of the battle with the Spanish fleet certainly deserves more lasting honor than has been obtained for it by merely printing it as a press dispatch. It is one of the most graphic descriptions of an encounter that has ever been written and the sentiment conveyed in the account of the actual surrender is really poetic. Nothing for instance could be more charmingly realistic than the story of how Captain Eulalie of the Vizcaya kissed his sword reverently, and with the tears streaming down his cheeks offered it to Captain Evans, whose refusal to accept it was followed by a wild demonstration of approval by every one on board. The pen picture is a very pretty one throughout and those who have not yet read it should not fail to do so.

The disruption that has been caused among the Philippine insurgents because there are a number of colored men in the ranks of the American troops that have just reached there is reminiscent of what occurred when the first regiment of colored soldiers reached the San Carlos reservation in Arizona a few years ago. The Apaches were tolerably quiet at the time, but immediately following the arrival of the negro troops an uprising occurred, the Indians objecting to have what they called "buffalo soldiers" in charge of them. They soon learned the lesson, though, that Uncle Sam's colored soldiers are good and fearless fighters and after three or four ineffectual raids they submitted to the inevitable.

According to the local reports, Mayor Phelan of San Francisco has gone to Lake Tahoe to recover from an attack of pink-eye. He was probably in the early stages of getting red-eyed over the way the Democracy of the metropolis has got itself into a factional tangle, thereby jeopardizing his chances of holding on to his official shoes for another term.

The soldiers at Camp Barrett can well congratulate themselves on being allowed to pitch their tents on this side of the bay. The epidemic of sickness that is raging in Camp Merritt is practically unknown here and as proper sanitary precautions are being taken there is no reason why the present happy condition of affairs should not continue indefinitely.

It need not be so much a matter of apprehension after all that we are not supplied with smokeless powder and that the enemy can therefore easily ascertain where our ships and gunners are. They find that out anyway when the shots start coming.

A Kansas woman is suing one man for divorce and another for breach of promise. That is a new way of having two strings to a beau.

The fusionist element appears to have the top hand, but it will be a very close fight anyhow in the Populist State convention, which assembles tomorrow at Sacramento. If the middle-of-the-roaders are defeated and Maguire is endorsed for Governor it will, of course, put an end to all Democratic politics as to who shall head their ticket. The week will therefore be a highly interesting one to candidates of every description of political belief.

Lord Kelvin is alarmed because his investigations prove to him that the sun will burn itself out in seven million years. Where are those Don't Worry clubs—Kelvin can cheer up; when the sun burns out we can use some of the heat from that place where the wicked are to be for all eternity. There will doubtless be plenty of people on earth capable of raising it.

Kaiser William surveys the possible trouble with Uncle Sam with an apparent supreme indifference and tells his subjects that his army is the chief pillar of his throne. He has evidently forgotten that Scriptural incident where Sampson shook down the pillars of the temple. We have a Sampson.

Spain seems to have got it in the solar plexus and the gong is counting her out. She is lying bleeding and disfigured near the ropes, while your Uncle Sam with scarcely a scratch on him, is waiting to give the knock-out blow, if it becomes necessary.

The French will commemorate their Fourth of July next Thursday. It is the anniversary of the fall of the Bastile and in one way marks the foundation of the present liberty of the French Republic. Long may the tricolor wave.

Last year 34,423,094 barrels of beer were consumed in this country. That is a pretty good record anyhow for 70,000,000 people without figuring on all the whisky, gin and so forth that we got away with.

"BETWIXT LOVE AND DUTY." BY AMATEURS.

The Lyceum Stock Company, one of the oldest and best-known amateur stock companys now playing, will produce the beautiful three-act military drama, "Betwixt Love and Duty," at Dietz Opera House, on Thursday evening, July 14th, with the following cast of characters:

Colonel Lundy, a man with an eventful history, Harry Bruhns; Jerome Eddy, a gentleman of means, residing at Fort Lee, Oscar Gehring; Robert, his adopted son, a youth who stands "Betwixt Love and Duty," Homer Guilbault; Patrick Greenville and Francis Buffay, lawyers by profession and adventurers by nature, Harry Dark and Fred Harmon Roberts; Jose Massini, an adventurer, Lyle Ranney; Private O'Rourke, an Irishman who does not think he descended from the Kings of Ireland, Frank Buckingham; Fritz, whose prudence equals his gallantry, Jimmy Toohig; Louisa De Mont, a Creole lady sojourning at the North, Miss Cora Clark; Rowena, her daughter, Miss Mabel Turner; Mrs. Juliet Greenville, a non-believer in judicial separation, Miss Eva Lucas.

There will also be introduced some new and clever specialties. Among the artists are Miss Ida Malcon and Carro True Boardman.

OWLS WIN FROM THE WESTOVERS.

The game of ball at Elmhurst yesterday between the Owls and Westovers proved quite an interesting contest, the Owls winning by a score of 6 to 2.

The Owls presented a very neat appearance, and they played a good game, but had their opponents had a little more practice the result would no doubt have been a much closer score.

Next Sunday a picked nine from the Eight Regiment will play the Grand Rule Bazaars.

The score yesterday was as follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Owls, Fiege, pitcher.....	6	7	4
Westovers, Munson and Richardson, pitchers	2	5	6

EAST OAKLAND BLAZE.

Shortly before 8 o'clock Saturday evening fire destroyed a portion of the East Oakland Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 103 East Tenth street, and the California Match Factory next door. Both places were operated by Chinese, the buildings being very small sheds. The loss, which will amount to $750, is partially insured.

A New Flax Thresher.

BERKELEY, July 11.—A new flax thresher invented by John Larkin of 1310 Larkin street, San Francisco, has been brought before the College of Agriculture in the University of California, for inspection. A fair trial will be given to the machine by the college instructors.

STATE AND STATESMEN.

(The Tribune from time to time, as the State campaign, now on, progresses will give its readers the benefit of what the leading newspapers of the State of California have to say about the issues involved, or likely to be, and the men associated with them. The selections shall be entirely non-partisan.)

Hon. J. C. Holloway of Cloverdale, State Senator from the Sonoma county district, came down to Santa Rosa to spend the Fourth of July with his constituents here. In the course of a conversation with the gentleman we learned that he will be a candidate for renomination to the office he now holds.—Santa Rosa Republican.

The Stockton Record of last Friday morning says that Judge Barham of the First Congregational District of this State made one of the most conclusive and unanswerable arguments in support of Hawaiian annexation yet made in Congress and he surprised the Democrats by quoting the Dred Scott decision of Chief Justice Taney in support of annexation by action of Congress.

If James H. Budd is not trying to down Judge James G. Maguire for the Democratic nomination for Governor and trying to get there himself, how is it that every Democrat elected to the State convention at the Fresno county convention received through the mails a nice little book telling of all the good things "Our Jim" has done? By and by the Democrats of this county will become aware of the trickery by which anti-Budd Democrats were turned down at the primaries, and understand that there is a conspiracy against Maguire.—Fresno Watchman.

"The candidacy of Henry Gage of Los Angeles for the Governorship is received by the press of the South with a unanimity that is not short of astonishing," exclaims our trans-estuary neighbor, the Alameda Encinal. Even Gage himself must feel surprised at the singleness of sentiment in that part of the State. With the single exception of the paper which urges his nomination, not a publication south of Tehachapi if favorable to it. Such unanimity is striking—so striking that it ought to send the cold chills down his back.

A. B. Butler is supposed to be the moving spirit of the Fresno Expositor. Speaking of the political situation from a Democratic standpoint, that paper has this to say: Dr. Castle, the representative from this Congressional District, holds an anomalous position. He is a Populist, with, we believe, previous Republican affiliations, yet he is the unquestioned choice of the Democracy of the district for renomination. His renomination is a foregone conclusion and so is his re-election, in our opinion.

It has not been decided whether or not fusion shall prevail in the district, and it is a matter of no consequence. There will be but one candidate for the Democrats, Silver Republicans and Populists, and that man is Dr. Castle. He has represented the district ably and efficiently and has made a record that makes him generally acceptable to the people. The Democrats feel towards Castle as the Populists feel towards Maguire, tha he as nearly represents their sentiments and ideals as would any man who could possibly be named. Maguire and Castle will sweep the Seventh district. Honest, true and tried men, they are also true friends of the people, and will be triumphantly elected, despite the opposition and manipulation of the politicians.

The fourth party has now placed its ticket in the field. The Prohibitionists have no hope of electing their candidates, but they feel constrained to divide the forces working for an escape from a dishonest, extravagant and reckless administration of county affairs. Prohibition is not advanced one step by this course, in our judgment, and good government may be lost by it. We know that our Prohibition friends are earnest and honest and sincere, but we feel that in the battle against Republican misrule all parties should unite upon the Populist-Democratic ticket.—Fresno Expositor.

A few Democratic papers express the hope that the Republicans of this district will nominate A. J. Pillsbury for Congress, claiming that he will be easy to defeat. This hope has as false a ring as a pewter dollar. The fact is the Democrats fear the candidacy of Mr. Pillsbury, who would make short work of Mr. Castle. Mr. Castle's services in Congress have been almost barren of results. We want a man there who can do something else besides introducing bills.—Republican of Fresno.

The fight for the Republican nomination for Governor has settled down for a finish between Lou H. Brown, W. T. Fitzgerald, George C. Pardee, W. R. Davis and Tom Flint as one class and W. H. H. Hart, John H. Dickinson and Henry T. Gage as another or second class. Lou H. Brown appears to be in the lead of all the others and will probably secure the nomination. Pardee and Davis of Alameda county are waging a bitter fight for control of the delegates from that county, and the result of this fight will probably be that neither of them will make much of a show in the Republican convention.—Politicus of Los Angeles.

As the Senatorial situation stands today, Mr. Bulla, it would appear, is far in advance of any other aspirant. The northern part of the State has practically conceded the Senatorship to Southern California. The only real opposition to this arrangement comes from the Call and Spreckels, from the Chronicle and from the personal following of the several candidates in the field. The opposition to Mr. Bulla in this part of the State, eliminating the fight for Governor, is not serious. The candidacy of Grant is a bubble and is liable to burst at any time.—Herald.

Harbor Commissioner Colnon edits the Stockton Mail, the ablest and most influential interior Democratic paper. It has this to say on the Gubernatorial situation: If Meguire is nominated the Republican organs will make a desperate effort to make his single tax views the chief issue. They will assert that Maguire favors putting the whole burden of taxation on farmers—and idiotic as this assertion is, and absolutely ludicrous to any one who understands Mr. George's theory, it will find many to believe it. We are inclined to think that many of the editors who make the assertion believe it. There are plenty of dunces in the trade. . . . If Jeter of Santa Cruz is nominated by the Democrats, neither the uncertain element of single tax discussion nor the dead issue of railroad affairs will enter into the campaign. The Democrats will likely go to the people on the economical record of the present State administration and upon national issues—the free coinage of silver, opposition to imperialism and a condemnation of the Republican subservience to trusts and monopolies, as evidenced in the refusal to tax corporations and the consequent issue of bonds to pay the cost of the war. There seems to be no question that with such a candidate and such issues success would be within Democratic reach.

The friends of fusion have occasion to felicitate themselves upon the fact that the delegates to the State Convention of the People's party from the two most populous counties in the State—Los Angeles and San Francisco—have been chosen with references to their attitude on the question upon which, of all others, hope of success in the coming campaign is based. It has been feared that the union of all elements opposed to Republican rule might be defeated, through the over confidence of those members of the People's party who are generally interested in reform and willing to make some concessions to secure it, added to the pernicious activity of the middle-of-the-road faction, which professes to be ever reconciled to sentimental defeats at the hands of a notoriously practical and eminently mercenary enemy.

The result in the chief centers of population, north and south, augurs well for a harmonious convention, favorable to the desired selection of a union ticket and the adoption of a common platform upon which Populists, Democrats and Silver Republicans can agree without shock to the conscience. An agreement upon both should not be difficult to reach. That accomplished, the victory will be more than half won.—Los Angeles Herald.

It is really amusing in the present unpleasant attitude of the Democratic party and its anomolous position on every popular issue, how it is straining for something to find fault about. Every time it takes one of its suicidal steps it finds a strong element in its own ranks that revolts so that it has become so decimated since the last election, and particularly since the war began, that its organ scarcely dare venture an opinion as to where the party is at. "Slogans" are hatched and discarded and hatched again, yet their war of conquest (spoils) appears less and less promising.—Stockton Independent.

There was a so-called Democratic Convention in Santa Rosa last Saturday. The meeting was largely made up of proxies—in fact, so largely composed of them that the secretaries would not let the Republican copy the list for publication. But presumably all the delegates and those holding proxies were Democrats. The meeting was called in the name of Democracy, and that party is and must be held responsible for the action taken.

The platform adopted is composed of four resolutions. The first resolution consists of four parts and the last three resolutions of one proposition each. In the first resolution there is approval of the war with Spain, demand for a stronger foreign policy on the part of our Government, indorsement of American heroism as shown in the existing conflict and a demand that Spain pay the expenses of the war waged to accomplish the freedom of Cuba. The next resolution undertakes to tell how proxies are to be used in the State and District Conventions, and was intended by J. W. Oates, who ran the convention Saturday, to keep Geary and other prominent Democrats from getting into those conventions by the use of a proxy. The next two resolutions relate to the candidacy of Senator J. H. Seawell for Governor.

So far as the political sentiments of this peculiar platform are concerned, they are in no sense distinctively Democratic. They are sentiments that are almost universally indorsed in this country. They have been Republican doctrine for a long time, and are we to infer that they are all that is left of Democracy?—Sonoma Republican.

Orange county has already held its County Convention, and has elected its State delegates. A story leaks out that this early convention was called for a purpose and came near proving the funeral ceremony of Colonel Dan Baker. It seems that Charles Edelman and Colonel Dan are both candidates for State office, the former for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer and the latter for Lieutenant Governor. Several days ago Colonel Baker hied himself away to San Francisco to look after his political fences around the bay city, leaving matters at Orange thoroughly satisfactory to him. No sooner had Colonel Baker shaken the Santa Ana sand from his heels than the friends of Mr. Edelman, so the story goes, called the County Convention at an early date and prior to Colonel Baker's contemplated return. The primaries were held. Colonel Baker was given the tip of what was going on, and, just prior to the convention, returned to Santa Ana, lank and lean, to find that his neighbor, Mr. Edelman, had all arrangements made to capture the Orange county delegation. Colonel Baker snorted and puffed over the situation, lamented his untimely trip to San Francisco, spoke a little French and determined to capture his enemy on his chosen battlefield. The result of all this was that Mr. Edelman was routed, Colonel Baker was indorsed and the elected delegates were instructed to work and vote for his nomination.—Los Angeles Herald.

ARTILLERY IS READY FOR DEADLY WORK.

Will Make Things Warm For the Intrenched Spaniards.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Siboney, via Port Antonio, says:

The light artillery that arrived on Saturday will be sent forward and placed in position for enfilading the trenches where the Spanish forces are strongly intrenched.

The progress in pushing forward the heavy siege guns is disappointing. They may be needed to reduce the main fortifications of Santiago.

Engineer and artillery officers are positive that they have located accurately the Spanish batteries which were so destructive in the earlier fighting.

The troops which came yesterday will be used as a reserve and not sent ahead too rapidly. The addition to the supplies brought by the transport will be very serviceable.

The refugees from Santiago are becoming a serious military problem. There is a large settlement of them at Caney, but that was not sufficient, and hundreds have spread beyond Siboney. Rations are served to them. The most intelligent of the refugees say that only a small number of Spanish soldiers have recently entered Santiago—not more than 1,000. Dissensions continue between General Toral, the military Governor, and General Linares, Caprites, the civil Governor, wants Toral to surrender without further bloodshed, but the military faction is stubborn.

The reports of the bad health of the American troops in the field are exaggerated. The chief suffering has been from malaria and ordinary camp ailments, which yield to treatments. Some of the regiments have also suffered from physical exhaustion because too much labor was put upon them in digging trenches and rifle pits.

WAS ABOARD THE FATED BOURGOGNE.

Fears Entertained as to the Fate of Mrs. Raboli of Livermore.

It is feared that Mrs. Mary Raboli, wife of Charles Raboli of Livermore, perished in the Bourgogne disaster. She left home two weeks ago on the way to visit relatives at Asti Piedmonte, Italy. In a letter to her husband, dated on the day before the fated liner sailed, she stated that she had secured a berth on La Bourgogne. Mrs. Raboli was 23 years of age. She was widely known in the community in which she lived.

INJURED WHILE DRIVING TO SAN LEANDRO.

Joseph Marshall, while driving along the San Leandro road yesterday, collided with a Haywards car. He was just passing Moss avenue when the horse, frightened by the rumble of the approaching car, lunged to one side, throwing the carriage onto the track. The car smashed into it, throwing Marshall and a companion to the ground.

Marshall was brought to the Receiving Hospital where it was found that his injuries were only superficial. An abrasion of the face and contusion of the back were treated by Dr. Henry Horn.

LATE SENATOR DENISON RESTS IN THE GRAVE.

Many Friends Attend the Simple Funeral Services.

Words of Consolation and Tribute For the Living and the Dead.

The remains of the late Senator Eli Denison lie in a beautiful plot in Mountain View Cemetery, where they were quietly laid yesterday afternoon, in the presence of the immediate relatives and personal friends of the deceased.

It had been announced that the interment would be private, and it was in deference to the wishes of the family, which were also known to have been those of the deceased, that the last rites should be as simple as possible.

The friends of the deceased, however were not prevented from testifying, in an expressive manner, to the esteem in which they held the deceased, and this they did in a most kindly manner yesterday afternoon at the memorial exercises, so to speak, which were held in the First Unitarian Church.

The auditorium of the house of worship was filled with men and women who had known and admired the deceased in life and the platform was thronged with floral tributes expressive of the regard in which the late Senator was held by the friends he had left behind, and the organizations with which he had been associated.

Oakland Parlor of Native Sons was represented by a massive and beautiful standard of variegated flowers, the central feature being a floral representation of the American flag, the red stripes being made of geraniums, the white of white pinks and the field of corn flowers.

The Athenian Club was represented by a large and luxuriant floral pillow of roses pinks and ferns.

C. E. Eaton of the Merchants' Express also sent a beautiful floral cluster.

There was also a harp exquisitely wrought in ivy and roses.

Charles Bon sent a star surmounting a pedestal. The design was made of American Beauty roses and Bermuda Easter lilies.

Frank Leavitt sent a beautiful cluster of American Beauty and Bride roses.

Mrs. Dr. Trimpley sent a beautiful floral wreath.

Miss Sloper sent a basket of peas. Mr. and Mrs. Leber a bunch of white carnations. Dr. J. P. Dunn a rich cluster of Golden Gate pinks and carnations, while Oakland Lodge of Elks gave a beautiful assortment of Lilium Aratum and golden banded lilies of Japan, with a base of Mme. Caroline Testaut roses.

The Alliance sent a magnificent cluster of American Beauty and Bride roses.

The most symbolic piece was the outline of a passenger car of the early days of the Central Pacific. It was formed on a ground of white pinks, with the delicate tracing of blue immortelles in a frame of roses, and bore the date of "May 9th 18?." This was intended to recall the driving of the golden spike at Promontory, which signalized the completion of the all rail route between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, which took place on the date mentioned, and which was witnessed, among others, by all the projectors of the road, and with them traveled the deceased, who was then in the prime of life.

These floral emblems spoke volumes of tenderness and friendly esteem, and gave forth the odor of the parterre which pervaded the auditorium.

The casket containing the remains was covered with drab cloth, and the lid was hidden beneath a floral pall of bright and variegated flowers. It was brought into the auditorium through the west entrance and was placed immediately in front of the pulpit.

Rev. James S. McDonald, D. D., assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, then appeared at the reading desk and delivered a fervent eulogy upon the deceased, and uttered eloquent words of consolation and comfort to the members of the bereaved family.

It was Dr. McDonald who joined the deceased and his surviving widow in the bonds of matrimony in Sacramento thirty years ago. He had watched his career and it was reserved to him, when death came, to have been located in close proximity to the deceased. It was the [illegible] circumstances that brought [illegible] pronounce the last words [illegible] mains of his early friend [illegible] ioner.

DR. M'DONALD'S [illegible]

Dr. McDonald spoke a [illegible]

"'Speak ye to the [illegible]

'Speak ye comfortably [illegible] we are here at this [illegible] our respects to the me[illegible] husband and father [illegible] zen and friend, a few [illegible] spoken about him pers[illegible]

"But my special me[illegible] of consolation from God's Holy Word to the wounded, sorrowing heart.

"Thirty years ago I became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Denison, under circumstances of peculiar interest. It was my pleasant duty to say the words that united them in a happy marriage. It was the beginning of a long and peaceful wedded life. Then the foundations of a new home were laid that has proved one of continued domestic bliss. Some homes are like the beautiful Oriental gardens, referred to by the Psalmist, where 'thy children are like olive plants round about thy table.' It is a favored spot, where the most lovely flowers bloom and delicious fruits mature. There are homes that are like unsightly and neglected garden spots rank with weeds and briars. Husband and wife have a solemn responsibility laid upon them when they enter the new home, and they do a great and blessed work when they are home-makers that will cause their children to rise up and call them blessed. This friend has left a home that will be fragrant with the memory of his kindness and love.

"The business in which he engaged for nearly thirty years was one peculiar, and stood alone, and proved to be lucrative And could all of his boys, who through many years have served the public on the trains of our great highways, march past this casket and look upon the face of their benefactor, many tears would fall and gratitude for kindness and helpfulness would be felt and expressed. He had given them a chance to work, and aided them in making a start in life. Those who knew him well speak warmly of his many quiet deeds of kindness.

"Of his public life, others have already spoken eloquently and earnestly. As a Senator, he gained the respect of men of all parties. He was devoted to the interests of this great State, and to those of Alameda county. All of its citizens pay homage to his integrity and devotion to the public good. They are sincere mourners this day, when they realize that they can no more look into his face and grasp his hand. It is with sadness of heart they say the final word, 'Farewell, citizen, brother, friend.'

"But, at this sad and sacred hour it becomes us to turn away from the sleeper, whose ears are closed to all voices, and to listen ourselves to the words the Great Father and Comforter has to speak to all of His suffering and sorrowing children.

"In His holy name, let me repeat His own gracious words: 'Comfort ye, comfort ye my people,' saith your God. 'Speak ye to the heart of Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned.' Only the heart that has a message of love and mercy can speak to the heart, and give it consolation in its sorrow. Mere words, no matter how wise, cannot reach the heart if they come not forth from a believing and loving heart. And we rejoice that the great heart of God is giving expression to its infinite affection in the precious promises and assurances of His blessed word. St. John, that beloved disciple, who lived in such close touch with the heart of his beloved Lord calls Him by that priceless name, 'Love.' 'God is Love.' And our Savior spoke with words of fathomless meaning when He said: 'For He so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.' John. 3:16. This gift is the expression of a Father's love to a sinful, perishing race. We know something of the marvelous, tender, patient love that reigns in the heart of the father and mother and husband and wife And God takes this, and tries to reveal unto us something of the great wealth of love in the divine heart. 'For the Lord hath comforted His people, and will have mercy on the afflicted.' But Zion said 'The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me. Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love.' Isa. 49:13-15. 'Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him.' 'As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you.'

"The great mission of the Son of God into this world was to seek and save the lost and to speak to the heart of all who mourn. 'For the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many.'

"Long before His advent, His mission of mercy was made known in Isa. 61:1-3: 'The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek. He hath sent me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to comfort all that mourn; to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garments of praise for the spirit of heaviness.' It was also written of Him: 'So He was their Savior. In all their afflictions He was afflicted, and the angel of His presence saved them. In His love and in His pity He redeemed them, and He bore them and carried them all the days of old.' Isa. 63:8-9.

"And when the Son of God came, He passed the nature of angels and took upon Him 'the seed of Abraham, and was made like unto His brethren, that He might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.' He became a Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with grief, that He might speak to the heart, and give it peace. With pity and power, with sympathy and tears, with healing, life giving touch, and comforting words, He soothed the sorrows of the heart. He delivered them who, through fear of death, were all their lifetime subject to bondage. When about to go to the cross, and soon after to His heavenly home, He comforted His sorrowing disciples with the words that have been very precious to myriads of believers, 'Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am there ye may be also. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.' John 14:1-3, 27.

"I once read these words in a home where death had entered and taken away a beloved wife and mother. I was then told of a brother, whose heart had been cheered and comforted by them as they had been read to him every day for a year before he died.

"With these assurances of his ascended and glorified Savior falling sweetly upon his ears day after day, he would have no fear of his Master's summons.

"Like Abraham, he was looking for the city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. To him St. John's beatific vision was a blessed reality. He had no doubt that ere long he should enter the heavenly paradise and share forever in all its joys. And so God has spoken to the hearts of His people, and poured the light and joy into what were once chambers of sorrow.

"Today He comes with words of comfort to all who mourn. Sooner or later each one of us will need them. And if we [illegible] welcome our Redeemer and the consolations of His gospel, He will give us beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, and the garments of praise for the spirit of heaviness, and His perfect and endless peace.

"Wherefore, my beloved brethren, comfort one another with these words, 'And to Him who hath loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood, and hath made us kings and priests unto God and His Father; to Him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.' Rev. 1:5-6."

These remarks were made in a tenderly impressive manner, and were followed by a short, fervent and eloquent prayer, and then the ceremony had come to an end.

A last look was then taken at the placid features of the deceased by all present, after which the auditors retired from the place and the remains were removed to the hearse.

GRATITUDE FOR GLORIOUS VICTORIES,

Thanksgiving Sermons From Various Pulpits.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., preached a thanksgiving sermon in the Grand Opera House, ascribing to the Heavenly Father the victories at Santiago and expressing this boundless gratitude for these results. He said that a review of the history of the country during the 122 years of its existence could not fail to impress one that its Presidents had been led by God.

Speaking of the fight at Santiago, Mr. Dixon said:

"Reverse the conditions at Santiago, place our army in the trenches, and the army was never known that could drive it out and capture those trenches. Our losses were marvelously, providentially small, compared with the results obtained. It was fear of the army that drove Cervera from Santiago. And there again was God's protecting hand sheltering our men, while hundreds of the enemy were slain. God has given us dominion over the seas, and there is hope for future years of glorious new National life."

The Rev. Dr. Gunsulaus of Chicago occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church, and his sermon was appropriate to the day. He took for his text Isaiah viii, 1-3.

"Our President has called us together to the altar of thanksgiving today, and we obey. We are thankful—thankful for a flag so woven of divine ideas and humane sentiment that wherever it floats means freedom under the law and hope to the oppressed. Thankful are we for a President who held as long as possible to the conviction that these ideas and sentiments ought to be awarded a bloodless victory; thankful that our army and navy have proved themselves as worthy to succeed their most brave, generous and Christian ancestry; thankful, not that our foes have been defeated and slain, but that this is a better world to live in and rule than it was at the dawn last Sunday.

"American ideas have come to such maturity that it is clear that American ideas will Americanize Europe or European ideas Europeanize America. Our ideas of government and humane progress already have gone farther than our battleships have carried them. We have assumed public responsibility for them at Manila and Santiago. We can rest our foreign policy only on such ideas and sentiments as make us victorious over greed and anarchy at home. Let these go forth and continue to conquer."

Rev. W. D. Williams, in the Church of the Holy Apostles, said:

"To-day we seek to realize our obligations to Him who has favored us with unscathed triumph on the seas. Gratitude for past good is a stronger motive than hope for a future benefit.

"It is demonstrated that our country is defended by a navy of merit and intellect, of discipline and character. Our unscathed triumph will not intoxicate us with joy, but nerve us for duty. The elements which destroyed, will construct; the fires which consumed Cervera's fleet have enlightened the world.

"We are preparing to bear the weight of the future. We shall show the world our measure and reveal our capacity. The time for apprenticeship is over. We shall use our talents. Since Manila and Santiago, our horizon is vaster. Our civilizing forces shall be more universal, transforming and re-making the isles of the ocean into gardens of righteousness."

Funeral of Chas. Kaus.

The funeral of Charles Kaus, the unfortunate young man who was fatally injured at Port Costa Friday, was held yesterday from the home of the parents, 1109 William street, and was largely attended.

The coroner's inquest will be held this evening.

REPUBLICANS RALLY OUT IN SAN LEANDRO.

Young Men Fill the Town at Saturday's Gathering.

Arrangements Made For a Rousing Meeting Next Week.

On Saturday evening a contingent from the Young Men's Republican Club of Alameda county, about thirty strong, held a political rally at San Leandro for the purpose of rousing some campaign enthusiasm in the Republicans of that town. Owing to a misunderstanding as to date and also to the rivalry of a local entertainment and ball given there that evening the attendance was not as large as it might be. It was decided to hold another such meeting on the evening of July 22nd; which one hundred members of the Young Men's Club will conduct, assisted by a brass band.

Arthur H. Breed called the meeting to order. After stating in brief the purposes of the Club, Mr. Breed called attention to some popular misapprehensions.

"There seems in some places," said the speaker, "to be prevalent an idea that this league is out in the interest of certain candidates. I desire now to correct that idea if there be any that are in this hall who may have heard or been impressed that such was the object of the league's existence.

"Further, I want to say we are not and never will be found in any man's fight until after he has received the regular Republican nomination, and then we will be behind every nominee and with out usual enthusiasm advocate and work for his election.

"We propose, during this campaign to have uniformed drill corps in which there will be a hundred marching men. We will at least once during the campaign visit every town in the county and San Leandro will not be overlooked."

Mr. Breed then introduced Frank Bilger who presided over the meeting.

John W. Stetson, the first president of the league, was called for to explain something further about the purposes and objects of the league, which he said now had a membership of 520 and was still growing. Before the campaign closed it was the intention to swell the membership to a round thousand active and enthusiastic young Republicans. Already the league was recognized throughout the county and in San Francisco as a potent factor in Alameda county politics.

Mr. Stetson dwelt at length on the fact that its organization was not a local one, nor was its field of action confined to Oakland. The object for which it was organized was to keep Alameda county safe within the Republican lines and Livermore, Haywards and San Leandro were just as much entitled to receive assistance from the league as Oakland or Alameda. The first purpose of the league was to place Republicans in control of the county affairs and never would men be thought of before the party at large.

The presiding officer next called upon William Nat Friend, who remarked that he was pleased—pleased to see the seats full and the occupants otherwise. Further he was pleased to see young Republicans assembled together to discuss the doctrines handed down by the men who had formed and preserved this nation.

"And while we are discussing those doctrines our fathers tested and tried, let us not forget the doctrines recently enunciated by our honored President, whom Alameda county, with its 5 000 majority, helped to elect," continued Mr. Friend.

"In these times of war everything pertains to the soldier and it seems to me that the members of this and similar clubs should form the rank and file of the Republican army. Our fathers have done good work and they should be relieved of the hard work of campaigning. Their place in the political world is that of planning. Performing as it were the duties of the officers of this great political army called the Republican party.

"Their orders to us are to spread the gospel of Republicanism throughout the entire country and that is why we are here tonight and why we are coming back again in the near future. We propose to make things so hot that there will be no room for no one else but us and we want recruits for our army. All we ask of any young man who wants to become a member of our club is that he intends to support the nominees of the Republican party from Governor right down the line. You may have your individual choices as to whom you would like to see get the nomination; you as individuals may work to secure for your friends anything they want, but if they happen to get defeated, and somebody certainly will, don't get soreheaded. Show your loyalty to the party and get right in behind the other fellow and help elect him, that's what the Young Men's Republican League of Alameda county is for."

Dudley Kinsell of Elmhurst, Thomas Johnson, John Driver and H. Morin of San Leandro were asked to speak and each responded with brief remarks.

Mr. Ford of Niles was present and on being called upon by the chair, said that he was under the impression that the rural districts had not as yet been thoroughly roused to the idea that this was a campaign year. They, as a rule, were busy with their crops and what reading the farmers were doing was about the war. He thought it would be about as good a thing as the league could do to awaken the country up to the importance of the coming election. The idea seemed to meet with the approval of those present and it is quite likely that branch leagues may be formed throughout the county.

During the evening the auditors were entertained by a male quartette composehpphhkw kwigfikwokw gfikdwakw posed of Abe P. Leach, Clarence Crowell, Teddy Jost, and William Dickman.

OAKLAND WATER MAY GO TO BERKELEY.

The Report of the Committee to be Presented to Trustees Tonight.

The citizens' committee of Berkeley charged by the Town Trustees with the task of reporting on the water question, will present its opinion tonight.

Since the scope of this committee was extended to the subject of providing for the town's immediate emergency, its labors have been apportioned as follows: The Chairman of the committee, Dr. Thomas Addison, was to obtain propositions from the Contra Costa Water Company; L. J. Le Conte, who is also one of the Town Trustees, was to seek similar propositions from the Oakland Water Company, while Edward F. Niehaus, the West Berkeley manufacturer, was given the task of making inquiries in the line of wells and the subterranean water resources of his section of the town and of the region to the north of Berkeley. Propositions have been obtained in writing from both the companies to furnish water to the pipes of the Alameda Water Company on what are deemed reasonable terms. They will be included in the committee's report.

SAID TO BE A CHILD OF JAMES FAIR, JR.

A Story From Sacramento That is Not Generally Given Credence.

The story of Mrs. A. Jacobs of Sacramento that she has in her custody a child of the late James G. Fair, Jr., is receiving very little credence. There are a few, however, who declare that the chain of alleged facts outlined by Mrs. Jacobs seem very circumstantial.

The child she claims is the heir of Senator Fair's son is a petite girl, apparently between nine and ten years of age. Her face is rather pretty. She is very dark and has a wealth of wavy black hair, which reaches almost to her waist. The old woman pointed to this with pride and said:

"Just look at that hair. That's a Fair characteristic. Nobody could deny that she belongs to the family. Her father said she was his child, and I know that she is."

The girl bears a striking resemblance to Mrs. Jacob's daughters, Mrs. Kendall, and any one ignorant of the old woman's allegations seeing the two together might entertain the opinion that they were mother and child.

FAKER FRANCIS IS A FLAT FAILURE.

The Big Crowds He Expected at the Tabernacle Do Not Attend.

The meetings of "Dr." Francis Warnon are almost deserted. The doctor is now holding forth in the Tabernacle but the attendance is about lost in the big building. He has made all the capital possible out of his alleged cure of Mrs. Montgomery, notwithstanding the fact that the lady has frequently stated in public that Dr. Warnon was only one of the many hundreds who were praying for her and that he is, therefore, only entitled to a proportionate share of the credit.

The doctor promised a week ago that many prominent people were intending to come to his platform and help him in his ministrations, mentioning, among others, "dear Mrs. Montgomery, and perhaps her husband."

So far, however, Mrs. Montgomery has not appeared, and the audience which once filled the large tent has dwindled away.

SILVER QUESTION IN ABEYANCE.

Senator Mantle Says Territorial Acquisition Has the Floor.

BUTTE, Mont., July 11.—Senator Lee Mantle has returned from Washington. In an interview he said the silver question would practically be obscured in the next campaign by the question of territorial acquisition. He thought the people of the United States were almost unanimous in the sentiment that none of the conquered territory shall be released, and said that in all probability the United States would retain the Philippines, Porto Rico, Cuba and other islands now owned by Spain. Senator Mantle urges a fusion of all silver forces for the fall campaign.

ALAMEDA NEWS.

ALAMEDA, July 11.—St. Joseph's Church was reopened yesterday after being closed since Lent in order to permit of extensive repairs. Last spring it was found that the weight of the roof was too great for the side walls, and as a consequence the structure was not believed to be safe. At an expense of several thousand dollars the interior has been reconstructed and so arranged that there is no further fear on the grounds noted.

The church was crowded to all the services yesterday, especially at 10:30 o'clock, when high mass was celebrated by Father Foley, assisted by Father O'Connor. Father Younan, the Paulist missionary delivered the sermon. A special musical programme was rendered under the direction of Theodore Vogt by the following choir: Annie Burns, Isabelle McCurrie, Adele Galxez, S. H. Young, Frances Morris, S. Z. Radcliff, Mrs. I. M. Raum, Rebecca Rich and S. R. Wilburn. The music was as follows: Kyrie, Gloria and Credo, by I. L. Battmann; Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei, by S. Mercandante; Veni Creator, by I. Wiegand, sung by S. Raum and Miss McCurrie; Ave Maria, P. Serrao, sung by Mr. Young; O Salutaris; C. Basini, sung by Mrs. Raum; Tantum Ergo.

The Red Cross Society will be given a benefit Friday and Saturday evenings, when Alice Kingsbury Cooley's new play, "Father and Son," will be presented by professionals at Armory Hall.

Peary's Polar Expedition.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NORTH SYDNEY, C. B., July 11.—The steamer Windward, which is to convey Lieutenant Peary to the Arctic on his expedition in search of the North Pole, arrived last night from New York and is coaling at the Whitney Pier. She has a large quantity of provisions on board, sufficient to last the party several years, as Peary does not expect to return before 1900. Peary will take passage on the steamer Help, also here, bound to Arctic waters with a party of explorers. He will await the arrival of the steamer Windward at a port in Baffin's Bay and then proceed as far north as possible with his own steamer.

WILL GO TO WEST POINT.

John A. Britton, manager of the Oakland Gas Company, has received word from Secretary of War Alger that his son, Vanleer Eastland Britton, has been appointed a cadet in the military school at West Point. The young man is 18 years of age, a graduate of the Oakland High School, and is regarded as a very bright and promising fellow. He does not enter the academy until next year.

Wounded By a Toy.

Linell Morel and Albert Donald of Alameda manufactured a cannon out of an old bicycle pump and loaded it to the muzzle, topping the charge with a piece of sheet lead in the form of a slug. When a match was applied, the cannon went off in two directions. It carried about twenty feet, passing through a one-inch board gate on Alameda avenue and striking O'Brien, who happened to be passing at the time, in the side of the head. O'Brien, who thought that he was shot, started to run and was finally taken to the office of Dr. E. M. Keys, where the wound was dressed.

J. HURT HURLS NAMES AT HIS HATED RIVAL.

The Children Are Given Into Custody of a Guardian as Agreed to By the Mother.

For the first time since the case was instituted, Joel J. Hurt appeared in the court room and gave his own version of affairs. The testimony today was very diffuse and scattered.

Before the morning's hearing was concluded the two sides of the case seemed more than ever to center themselves about the two considerations—a mother's love and care, or a father's wealth. And when Judge Ogden's decision palpably favored the side of the mother, murmurs of approval could be heard on all sides. Grateful women, friends of the distracted mother, rushed to thank the court and others extended a cordial hand to Judge Gibson for his successful defense. The little Mrs. Schaeffer could scarcely contain all her joy and in exultant happiness she kissed her little girls, who clung about her neck, nodding expressions of gratitude to her attorneys and friends about her.

In substance Hurt's testimony follows. At the outset the father told the court that he was willing to provide for the children an elegant home in South Omaha, where he would give them all that money could provide, and would educate them. There he would place them in the care of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Reader, whom he has known for years. Hurt also agreed to provide for life for the mother if she would conduct herself as a mother should, and would abandon the man with whom she is living and would go to the East. He believed that his great expense of labor, time and effort would evidence the fact that he loved the children and was working for their best interests. Mr. Hurt cited the position of the children he has reared. One is graduated from Nebraska State University and is now with Company H, Nebraska Volunteers, in Cuba. Another is at a military college at Lexington, Missouri, and the third is a black sheep, never having been under his father's control.

Mr. Hurt denied having prejudiced the children against the mother, and utterly denied having told them that she was a wicked woman. However, the witness stated that he told Josie that if Schaeffer ever laid a hand on her that he would shoot him in two.

On cross-examination, Mr. Hurt said that he was today worth $100,000, although he at one time was worth nearer $500,000. He scorned the thought of Schaeffer, and said:

"I didn't think this thing (pointing to Schaeffer) had the nerve to shoot me. He is considered a coward in our country. If you had told me he was going to kill me, I would not have believed it." And again, in answer to a question, Mr. Hurt said: "I would assume that she should never be connected with such a thing as that sitting over there"—pointing to Schaeffer. And then Mr. Hurt confessed the real feeling in his heart.

"It would be the greatest pleasure of my life," said Hurt, "to bring this mother and her children together in my own household, but I could never do it while she associates with this horse thief."

Continuing, he said: "The Sheriff of Cheyenne county told me that Schaeffer took the alimony that I gave my wife before she was remarried, and gambled it off. I sent my little girl $5 in every letter I sent her, but this tin-horn gambler stole it. He also receipted for the alimony at the bank. All this loafer wants is the alimony money."

Probably the sensation of the morning hearing was sprung when Mrs. Carrie Mentell of San Leandro was called to testify in behalf of the respondent. She lost all control of herself, and uttered eloquent invectives against the general treatment of women. As to the matter in question, she was unable to find words enough to express herself.

"In a four weeks' acquaintance," said Mrs. Mentell, "I know Mrs. Schaeffer better than her own husband. She is a self sacrificing, loving, careful mother, always solicitous of her own children's interests. She is being shamefully abused, and all of this procedure is highly improper. If you knew her you would say the same."

When the witness was asked to confine herself to the questions, she said: "Oh, I can't help it. I am a woman myself. I know what it is to be picked upon, and I know what it is to suffer. Let me defend that woman. She is alone, as I have been alone. We women are trampled down and picked and picked. I know only too well what that is. Mrs. Schaeffer is a good woman. Without God's help no one could hold up the burdens that she has held up. I have seen her with a washing before her which even a slave would feel loth to undertake. She works night and day for those children."

"But," interrupted the court, "the attorneys object to this method of testifying. You will please confine yourself to the question."

"They can't object, your honor," replied Mrs. Mentell, "to a woman with pure character. Perhaps you would better excuse me, Judge Ogden. I am riled on this subject. I am a woman."

"Do you know what kind of a man Schaeffer is?" asked Attorney Gibson.

"No, sir," emphatically said Mrs. Mentell, "I have not been looking after men. I am a widow. I am here only to defend this poor woman. I'd like to be excused from here. I am too riled up about the matter."

"Be calm," said Judge Ogden.

But the witness could not be calm, and continued to explain that she was not on the stand to lecture, but nevertheless proceeded to do that very thing.

One of the chief witnesses called by the respondent was Josie Hurt, the oldest of the three children for whom Joel J. Hurt is fighting. Her testimony was all one sided. She said her mother cared for her in the very best possible way, and that she was a kind, loving mother. On the contrary, the little girl said her father tried to poison her mind against her own mother, and said everything mean against her to which he could turn his tongue. He wrote letters of this nature, and one in particular asking her to sneak away from home and meet him at a hotel in Oxford. She said that her father told her that he would kill Schaeffer if he ever came across him. The little girl testified that her mother never kept improper company and denied the allegation to the contrary.

Little Alice Hurt, the 9-year-old member of the trio, when carried to the witness stand in her mother's arms, had nothing but tears to present to the court. Before the first question had been asked, the little one's eyes filled with tears and she burst forth in sobs. Under the calming influence of a mother's caresses the girl soon suppressed her sorrow, but not sufficiently to allow her to proceed with testimony. She was withdrawn from the stand.

Mrs. Birchinell, a next door neighbor of Mrs. Schaeffer at San Leandro, proved in her novel way the fitness of the present custodians.

"Why," said the witness, "even the cats chase Mr. Schaeffer around the yard, and I'm sure he must be good. Yes, I have seen the kittens run after him, and he was too kind to step on their heels and drive them away."

Mrs. Burchinell's second argument was based on the fact that Mrs. Schaeffer sent the children to Sunday school.

Mrs. Keller said that the children were exceedingly well behaved and showed discipline such as can be given only by a careful, prudent mother. Following Mrs. Keller, Solomon Ury, a San Leandro butcher, termed Mrs. Schaeffer a model mother, and said that Schaeffer was not a dissolute man nor a bummer. He worked on the City of Peking in rigging it out for the troops, and was continually working about the home.

Annie Bolina, a neighboring widow, was also called to prove Mrs. Schaeffer's character, and she, too, voiced the sentiments expressed by others that Mrs. Schaeffer is a very proper woman to have charge of her own children. "In fact," said Mrs Bolina, "she has already done more for them than I ever could do."

Gavin McNab closed the case for the petitioner with a short argument, citing several authorities in substantiation of his petition.

Judge Gibson followed with an eloquent argument in behalf of the respondent. He implored the court for fifteen minutes to well weigh his opinion before rending three children from a mother and a mother's love and casting them out into the world with a heartless father, upon a basis of money.

JUDGE OGDEN'S DECISION.

Judge Ogden then terminated the case by the following decision:

"Probably in no case has this court felt the responsibility resting upon it more than in this. The future of these three little girls depends largely upon the decision about to be rendered.

The court briefly recited the history of the case from the time the father first sued for divorce to the present day. He called attention to the fact that the mother obtained the decree on a cross complaint, and that the custody of the children was given to her. That subsequently the father obtained a modification of the decree whereby the girls were awarded to him.

"At the time of the making of the original decree," continued Judge Ogden, "the children were outside of Wyoming. They were outside also when the supplemental modification was made. I feel that as between the two parties of this decree of divorce it is binding, and the court is bound to give both weight and credit to the decrees of sister States. The modification of that decree had the same effect as to give guardianship to the father. The Supreme Court of this State has said that letters of guardianship have not extra-territorial jurisdiction, and hence the power of guardian, though invested in the father at that time, has no effect here to-day.

"As the case is now presented to me, this court is called upon to decide who shall have the custody of these children, the father or the mother; whether the father shall carry them away out of the State, or whether they shall remain in this State with the mother.

"The offer of the father to give to the mother sustenance and a rich home cannot be considered by this court for a moment. The second husband's crime is not to be considered, for although it was by his imprisonment, he was subsequently pardoned and restored to full citizenship. Whatever may be said for marrying a man of this character, this court will encourage the two to remain together and to hold fast to the espousals taken at the altar.

"This court sees the great advantages that might accrue to the children from the benefits of living with the father. None are so blind as to fail to see the benefits of wealth rightly used. Yet on the other hand, it may be said that all this counts for naught compared with the consideration of morals which a child must have to keep herself in purity and make a noble woman. If the mother be a moral woman and a good woman almost every charge to the child is a moral precept and unconsciously grows up with a strong moral character. She is not only the best person to sow seed, but also to cultivate the soil.

"I see then these two positions and I dread to take the responsibility of saying that the children shall not reap the benefit which the father's wealth may bring them and to say that they shall stay with the mother. On the other hand I can not take them from the mother and give them over to the father where he can have exclusive control outside of the power of this court. But as the testimony has been given I reached a probable resolution of the difficulty, thus taking from the Court a part of the responsibility.

"If this mother would consent to some fit and proper person, who should be so deemed by the Court, being appointed guardian of her children, who should have their custody, allowing such access on the part of the mother as the guardian should consider fit, then this court would take such action.

I would suggest Mrs. Sanborn (who is in court this morning. I think this court should be placed in a position to say that if things so formulate themselves as to prove that the influence around the children is not the best, then they could be shipped at once to the father in Omaha, there to be benefitted by his wealth."

The decision was hardly spoken when Judge Gibson announced that the suggestion would be acceptable and that the mother would consent to Mrs. Sanborn's appointment. Court adjourned to allow time for the drawing up of letters of guardianship, and this afternoon Mrs. Sanborn was duly appointed to guard the children.

SENSATION OVER THE MISSING SWEENEY WILL.

The Mary Sweeney lost will case was brought to a very abrupt termination this morning by Judge Greene, after he had examined Elijah Foster, one of the executors named in the missing instrument, Nora Johnson and Bridget Muldoon, sisters.

When the Judge learned that Mrs. Muldoon was one of the devisees and that besides several small legacies, one-third of the estate was left to her son for her support, he detected a scheme on the sister's part to gain entire possession of her one-third by concealing the will.

"You will produce that will in court next Monday, madam," ordered the court.

"But I can not do so," replied Mrs. Muldoon.

"Well, madam, you have heard the instructions of the court and you will have the will here at that time."

TROUBLE OVER A COUNTY CLAIM

A little difficulty relative to the assigning of a county bill held the attention of the Board of Supervisors this morning. M. Stone, editor of the Portuguese paper, assigned a claim for $25 to two persons, Albert Kayser, proprietor of the Oakland Journal to M. Barnett. The first assignment was made March 28th and the second June 29th. Kayser complained this morning and asked that Barnett's claim be rejected. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee to act in conjunction with the District Attorney.

On Supervisor Wells' motion, $100 was appropriated for the Fourth of July celebration at Tesla. The Auditor was ordered to draw the warrant in favor of Walter H. Henry, secretary of the Tesla celebration committee.

A resolution transferring $575 from the General Road Fund to the Claremont Road District was adopted; $475 was also transferred from the general road fund to the Piedmont Road District.

Pietro Tomma was granted a free license to peddle.

ROAD REPORTS.

Reports from the following road foremen were filed: A. J. Rodrigues, Centerville; J. B. Barnard, Niles; J. Kruse, Pleasanton; O. P. Moulton, Newark.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

Liquor licenses were granted to Frank Francis, Centerville, D. H. Vogts, Vogtsburg.

Geo. C. Fisher of Niles made an application for a liquor license.

The petition for the following credits were granted to inmates of the County Jail: Gus Muller, 75 days, Ben Chipman, 30 days.

Sheriff White made a requisition for supplies for prisoners which was granted.

The Board then adjourned until 2 P. M.

WEIL SAYS HE WAS HELD UP.

Jacob Weil, a butcher, claims that A. Smith, proprietor of the Fish Ranch, held him up yesterday and relieved him of $100. He will go to Martinez for a warrant for Smith's arrest.

W. D. HEITMANN RETURNS FROM HIS TRIP EAST.

A Pleasant Visit to His Former Home in Nebraska.

The Trans-Mississippi Show a World's Fair in Miniature.

President W. D. Heitmann of the City Council, after a month's absence in the East, has returned to this city. His first stopping place in the East was Omaha, Nebraska, where he formerly resided and where his father is still a resident. His advent to the Gate City was a surprise to his parent, whom he had not previously apprised of his coming. His intention in this respect was inspired by the idea of affording the old gentleman the joy of a surprise. He discovered his father sitting on the porch of his residence, enjoying the coolness of the evening after the extreme heat of the day, and the meeting had all the heartiness which may be occasioned by the reuniting of sire and son after several years of separation.

After a stay of seve[illegible]ys in Omaha, Mr. Heitmann went [illegible]olstein, Iowa, where he paid a ten da[illegible]isit to his sister, Mrs. Lena Knuth, who is comfortably situated on a farm at that place and in the enjoyment of health and contentment with a large and hardy family of sons and daughters.

He then returned to Omaha, where he met a number of former acquaintances, as also a number of the men who, in the years that have intervened since his departure, have come into prominence in mercantile and social life.

Years have wrought many changes in the Gate City since Mr. Heitmann resided there. Three story buildings have grown into structures of ten and eleven stories of brick, marble, iron and granite. The sand dune streets are covered with pavements of brick and asphaltum, and an inter-State Exposition, which, despite the distraction of the war, is attracting the attention of a large part of the country, is in progress within her limits.

Mr. Heitmann saw on every hand evidences of energy, thrift, push and enterprise among the Omaha citizens.

"They have made," he said, "more progress in the past few years than have those of any of the middle West cities. Wherever they have gone as delegates to conventions lately, they have endeavored to bring the succeeding national gathering to Omaha. In this they have almost out-Chicagoed Chicago. Omaha, this year, I believe, will have as many large national conventions as Chicago. That will advertise the place and bring thousands of dollars to many lines of business.

"As regards the Inter-State Exposition," contiaued Mr. Heitmann when talking with a Tribune reporter, "it must be seen to be appreciated. It is really the Chicago World's Fair in miniature. There have been few like it outside of Chicago. It is one of the greatest shows ever put up. They have built a lake there about 1,000 feet in length, and stocked it with gondolas. The buildings are erected on either side. They are all white and are extremely beautiful. At night the place is lighted up with myriads of electric lights, and the effect cannot be described. It is really dazzling in its brilliancy, and seems more like fairyland than it does the work of human beings.

"The Government exhibit is a great feature. It contains models of all the great war vessels of this country and a number of other features which are very interesting.

"I kept away from politicians while I was on the road. I wanted to meet my father more than I did them, so I concluded to leave politics alone."

DR. FISHER IS ILL WITH TYPHOID FEVER.

Dr. Charles M. Fisher, the well-known physician, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. A fortnight ago he complained of feeling poorly but believed that it was merely a slight indisposition and continued to attend to his professional duties. He grew gradually worse and Dr. S. H. Buteau was summoned. Dr. Buteau pronounced it a case of typhoid fever. Everything is being done to bring about the recovery of Dr. Fisher, and this week his condition will be watched very closely, as in cases of typhoid the greatest danger is during the third week.

Dr. Fisher is the regular county physician. During his illness his duties in that direction are being looked after by Dr. W. S. Porter.

BRAY DISTRICT TROUBLES ARE IN COURT TODAY.

The action of William J. Smith against the Board of Trustees of Bray School District came up for hearing this morning before Judge Greene. The court ordered that the action be dismissed and the injunction be dissolved as to the defendant, W. M. Axtell. As it appears that since the filing of the complaint a new Board of school trustees for Bray District has been qualified and taken office, the court ordered that the injunction shall not apply to the new Board which took office July 1st, 1898.

EQUALIZERS ARE NOW READY TO HEAR PROTESTS

Ex-Supervisor Pelouze Applies For a Reduction.

W. A. Rouse Also Makes Application For a Lower Rate of Values.

Ex-Supervisor W. S. Pelouze was the first one to make an application for the reduction of assessment when the Board of Equalization convened at 10:30 o'clock this morning. He asked for reduction on the assessments of the improvements of his property on Seventh street between Pine and Wood. There were reductions asked on two lots as follows: $750 to $500 and $1500 to $800. The former property is assessed to Mrs. Laura Pelouze.

William Stewart filed two applications, one for himself and one for his wife, and both on property in Eden township. Stewart's property was assessed at $1,200 and he asked that it be reduced to $1,000. His wife's property was assessed at $145, and he asked that it be assessed at $100.

Mary W. and W. H. Rouse also filed an application for the reduction of the assessment on their property at Vernon Heights, near the Perkins place. There are four lots and improvements. On the latter the assessment is $7000 and a reduction of $1,000 is asked. Lots 13 and 14 are assessed at $800 and $725, and the reduction is asked making the assessment $700 and $600. The total assessment is $10,325 and it is asked to be assessed at $8,500.

Chairman Talcott asked that the District Attorney be requested to attend the meeting. When County Assessor Dalton and Attorney Snook arrived, Mr. Pelouze was called. He waived the three-days' notice.

On Supervisor Roeth's motion, the hearing of William Stewart's application was set for Thursday at 10 A. M.

Pelouze's application was next considered. Pelouze declared that the improvements were worth very little and that the assessment had been the same for several years. The Assessor stated that he thought it a fair assessment.

Supervisor Roeth wanted the Board to visit the locality before making any decision. Supervisor Mitchell thought it would take the Board six months to finish its work if it visited every locality.

Supervisor Church then moved that the first application asking for a reduction from $750 to $500 be granted. Roeth amended to deny the application, and Wells seconded the amendment, which failed to carry, as only Roeth and Wells voted for it. Church's motion then carried. Talcott, Mitchell and Church voting for it.

On Supervisor Talcott's motion, the second application of Pelouze for a reduction from $1,500 to $800 was denied by Mitchell, Wells, Roeth and Talcott voting aye and Church no.

W. H. Rouse waived the three days' notice and asked that his application be considered at once. He stated that his house was built fifteen years ago, and then cost $8,000. It was now insured for $6,000 or $5,500. Rouse declared that the house had never before been assessed for more than $5,000, while this year it was assessed for $7,000. It was decided to give the required reduction on the house, but not on the real estate. The vote was unanimous.

The Board then adjourned until 2 P. M.

Stereotypers Lose Their Strike.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The situation in the stereotypers' strike here is substantially as follows:

The papers here are all running smoothly, and tomorrow morning will resume their former size. The embarrassment in the situation is the over supply of stereotypers who have gathered here from all parts of the country. The publishers wish it known that all positions are filled and further applications cannot be considered.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

A Beautiful Present

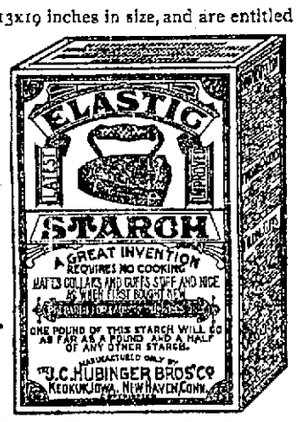

In order to further introduce ELASTIC STARCH (Flat Iron Brand), the manufacturers, J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., of Keokuk, Iowa, have decided to GIVE AWAY a beautiful present with each package of starch sold. These presents are in the form of Beautiful Pastel Pictures

They are 13x19 inches in size, and are entitled as follows:

Lilacs and Pansies.

Pansies and Marguerites.

Wild American Poppies.

Lilacs and Iris.

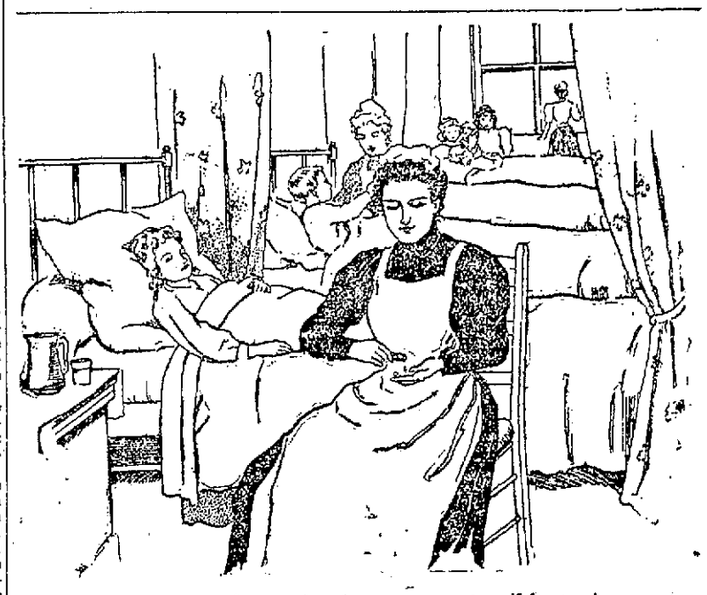

These rare pictures, four in number, by the renowned pastel artist, R. LeRoy, of New York, have been chosen from the very choicest subjects in his studio and are now offered for the first time to the public.

The pictures are accurately reproduced in all the colors used in the originals, and are pronounced by competent critics, works of art.

Pastel pictures are the correct thing for the home, nothing surpassing them in beauty, richness of color and artistic merit.

One of these pictures will be given away with each package of ELASTIC STARCH purchased of your grocer. It is the best laundry starch on the market, and is sold for 10 cents a package. Ask your grocer for this starch and get a beautiful picture.

All Grocers Keep Elastic Starch. Accept No Substitute.

The duties of a trained nurse are terribly trying and often result in serious derangements of the system. "My duties as a nurse," says one young woman, "frequently bring on attacks of extreme nervousness and headache, and I find myself unable to eat, and generally unfit for my work. Seeing them advertised, I tried Ripans Tabules, and find that a Tabule now and then removes my trouble and braces me up. They are really a 'Godsend' and I always keep some on hand, though I find I seldom need them now."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents. RIPANS TABULES may also be had of grocers, general storekeepers, news agents and at liquor stores and barber shops.

GAVE THANKS TO THE ALMIGHTY FOR VICTORY.

Rev. Graif's Eloquent Discourse on the War.

God Guides the American Army and Navy in Battle.

Last night, at the First Free Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. Philip Graif, D. D., in response to the President's proclamation and request, chose as his theme: "Grateful Recognition of the Finger of God in American History" and said:

"It is well to cultivate the spirit of thanksgiving. In our eager, breathless, high-strung American life the joyous, grateful note is too much the exception. Unwise, of course, is always the policy of a harsh or hasty criticism, whose bent is to silence the tongue of praise and whose delight is, like a lynx-eyed detective, to pick flaws and discover grounds of blame. Better, infinitely better than the art of the cartoonist or the vitriol thrower, is the work of the judicious admirer, whose well-poised appreciations cheer and stimulate, while they gently correct. The habit of dealing in nitric acid opinions is fatal to truth and justice.

Grave as is a captious, one-sided, surly attitude toward man, false conceptions of God are still more serious. To think that God is a heartless iron despot is to develop the tyrannical fiber in man. Whenever, says the muse of history, Jupiter with his eyes of pitiless lightnings and fists that hurl capricious thunderbolts, is worshiped, men become demons of cruelty and treacherous whim, and whenever Venus is adored, men soon sink to the level of the lust that leers and capers, lures and disports itself in the undraped charms of the voluptuous goddess. The fact is, human nature never rises higher than the object it worships. To foster a low, querulous, ingracious idea of God is a poor, suicidal philosophy. Distrust of the Infinite and the Eternal as if He were a sceptical imbecile, finally atrophies the brightest faculties of the soul, and spreads horror and darkness around human life. Hurt the tympanum of the ear, and the finest music ceases to vibrate on the stone-deaf air. Injure the optic nerve, and the noonday sky darkens into total eclipse. Seriously lose faith in the kind, tender All Father, and soon the springs of buoyancy are dried up, and the light of sunny-heartedness fades into desolation and woe.

While fear pinches the features, knocks the knees together, blurs the vision, sterilizes the mind, and lives in an atmosphere of fever and depression, grateful hope and trust in God nerve the relaxed will to potency, give sanity to judgment and put athletic vigor into the arm that strikes for noble ends. Under the Divine Leader we know that every misstep or crisscross fire even becomes a necessary part of a great forward movement. Our boys in blue will cheerfully wade through mud knee-deep, climb steep hills with bleeding feet, rush into the jaws of death on self-sacrificing Merrimacs, expose the bare breast to deadly rifle pits, and face ten thousand annoyances and perils provided they have reason to believe that, in the end, each bloody footprint will plant our banner higher along the roadway of civilization and progress. Happy is the soldier and the nation, who, journeying through a wilderness of hardship and danger, never lose sight of the divine pillar of fire and cloud.

"In common parlance the finger of God may mean a miracle of deliverance or intervention, but really a definite natural result is as much a divine providence as a brilliant exploit that points to an agency above the wit and genius of man. In the eras of the renaissance and the Reformation, in the discovery of America, in our casting off the British yoke, in the marvelous events of the Civil War in the swift, almost unparalleled destruction of the brave Spanish fleets at Manila and Santiago, we see the working of a subtle and resistless power that fills us with gratitude and awe, surprise and admiration. America stands for unfettered manhood, the freedom of conscience, the right of private judgment, the march and enlightenment of science, the power and glory of knowledge, and the reign and sovereignty of the people. Is it not plainly the finger of God that decadent, priest-ridden, yoke-bound Spain should come into unexpected collision with the most powerful and freest nation on the face of the earth? Thank God for the tidal wave of victories that has recently swept along from the Philippines to Cuba, and thrilled the Old World with a feeling of amazement and pride at our cool prowess, and prodigies of daring, and heroic persistency of purpose. We need not be ashamed of our ancestral stock. Not from Roman outlaws, or Greek marauders, or Egyptian buckards, but from the ripest brains and bravest, best hearts of modern culture and civilization were our Pilgrim Fathers sprung, and hence our paragons of gallantry are not of the vulgar, dare-devil type of valor, but warriors of the kind, chivalrous heart, unsheathing the sword, not for the sake of vaulting ambition or wreaths of fame, but in order to lift the shield of protection over the wronged and oppressed, and strike off the fetters of galling serfdom. Thank God our successes mean social progress for Spain. Instead of having the Spanish peasant, as hitherto, grub and groan, sow much hard toil and reap scant fruit for himself, eat coarse black bread and clatter along in wooden clogs, we want to turn his acres from a kind of practical infano into a land of paradise, where comfort and happiness, freedom and humanity hold sway. If the entire destruction of two squadrons, and the capture of her chief colonial cities will bring to his swarthy Latin race better homes wiser laws, and kinder rulers, this war will bring the haughty, doughty dons a rich blessing in disguise. To be sure America has not produced masterpieces of art or literature like the golden age of Pericles, nor reached anything to equal the marble splendor of the Augustan regime nor burst into any such consummate creature genius as the times of the great Elizabeth, yet if helpful humanitarian sympathy for alien races is the highwater mark of civilization, we have, thank God, in the truest sense surpassed all the boasted glories of the proud past. If this be so, our triumphs on land and sea will become insignificant in an epoch-making way."

RUNAWAY GIRL AT CAMP BARRETT.

Daisy Warner, a Former Inmate of the Beulah Home is Found.

Daisy Warner, a 15-year-old runaway girl, was found at Camp Barrett yesterday by Police Captain Carson, who took the girl to the city prison.

The girl was formerly an inmate of the Beulah Home for whom a home had been found with a well known East Oakland family. About six weeks ago she disappeared, taking with her numerous articles of small value. A diligent search had been made for the girl with the result that she was finally located at Camp Barrett. When taken into custody the girl stated that she had been living with a family at Fourteenth and Folsom streets, San Francisco.

HILBORN WRITES OF WORK IN CONGRESS.

The following letter is being sent to Republicans in the Third Congressional District in furtherance of the candidacy of S. G. Hilborn:

"Washington, D. C., July 1, 1898.

"Dear Sir:—These are war times and there is a strong probability that Congress will remain in session several weeks.

"I shall deem it my duty to remain here until Congress adjourns as I am especially interested in legislation affecting the navy.

"The time is approaching when the primary elections for choosing delegates to a convention to nominate a Member of Congress will be held.

"From present appearances, I shall not be able to be present in California when these elections are held. I shall not leave my post of duty even to secure a nomination. I think I have the right, however, under the circumsances to request my friends to look after my political interests. I have every reason to believe that my course in Congress is approved by a great majority of the people of my District. I hear no complaints in that regard. Some persons (whom I would have been glad to favor had it been possible) have failed to obtain office and are dissatisfied.

"I have been successful in obtaining needed legislation for my District.

"Oakland harbor gets a large appropriation which is to be expended 'according to the original plan' which includes the Tidal Canal.

"Barracks for a naval training school will be built at Goat Island.

"A great dry dock large enough to accommodate the largest battleships will be built at the Navy Yard at Mare Island. The appropriations for that Naval Station are larger than ever before.

"By a hearty co-operation of the California delegation, appropriations for the Sacramento River have been secured.

"I have borne my part of the burden of National legislation.

"As the ranking member of the Committee on Naval Affairs in the House, I have helped to put in form the legislation necessary to prepare our navy for action. The knowledge of the navy which I had acquired by years of contact, was appreciated by Congress and the Navy Department.

"In building up the great navy which we shall commence as soon as the war closes, I can still be useful to the country.

"My suggestion for the construction of a Model Tank for experimenting upon the models of ships, so that defects can be discovered and corrected before the ship is actually built, has been acted upon and is now near completion at the Washington Navy Yard. This will be of incalculable advantage in the future construction of ships.

"I desire to continue my labors as your Representative in Congress.

"Any assistance you may be pleased to render me will be highly appreciated.

"Very respectfully,

"S. G. HILBORN."

FREDERICK BALL, Plaintiff, vs. GEO. E. TOLMAN ET AL., Defendants. No. 54,383.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the city and county of San Francisco, of the State of California, wherein Frederick Ball is plaintiff, and Charles H. Jackson, S. T. Hubbell and James E. Damon are defendants, upon a judgment rendered the 9th day of January, A. D. 1897, for the sum of one thousand dollars, besides costs and interest, I have this day levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants, Charles H. Jackson, S. T. Hubbell and James E. Damon, of, in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:

That certain lot or parcel of land in the city of Alameda, county of Alameda, State of California, beginning at the point of intersection of the northern line of Eagle avenue with the western line of Seventh street (formerly Webster street) (as said street and avenue are delineated on the map hereinafter referred to) running thence northerly along the western line of Seventh street one hundred and forty feet; thence at right angles westerly one hundred and twenty-five feet; thence at right angles southerly one hundred and forty feet to the northern line of Eagle avenue; and thence easterly along the northern line of Eagle avenue one hundred and twenty-five feet to the point of beginning. Being lots numbers one, two, three, four, five and the southern fifteen feet of lot number six, in block "D," of the Shepardson tract, as the same are delineated on the certain map entitled "Map of the Shepardson Property, Mastick Station, Alameda, Subdivided January, 1876," filed March 18, 1876, in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda county.

That certain lot or parcel of land in the city of Alameda, county of Alameda, State of California, beginning at the point of intersection of the northern line of Taylor avenue with the eastern line of Fifth street (formerly called Second avenue), as said streets are delineated on the map hereinafter referred to; running thence easterly along the northern line of Taylor avenue seventy-four feet and seven inches; thence at right angles northerly one hundred and ten feet and two inches; thence at right angles westerly seventy-four feet and seven inches to the eastern line of Fifth street; and thence southerly along the eastern line of Fifth street one hundred and ten feet and two inches to the point of beginning. Being a portion of lot number eleven of the Teutonia Park and Homestead, Alameda, as the same is delineated on the map entitled "Map of the Lands of the Teutonia Park Homestead Association at Alameda, W. F. Boardman, C. Sur.," filed March 16th, 1877, in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda county.

That certain lot or parcel of land in the city of Alameda, county of Alameda, State of California, beginning at a point on the eastern line of Sherman street, distant thereon one hundred feet northerly from the point of intersection of the eastern line of Sherman street with the northern line of Central avenue (as said street and avenue are delineated on the map hereinafter referred to); running thence northerly along the eastern line of Sherman street twenty-five feet; thence at right angles easterly one hundred and fifty feet; thence at right angles southerly twenty-five feet; and thence at right angles westerly one hundred and fifty feet to the eastern line of Sherman street and point of beginning. Being lot forty-one in block twenty of the Fitch Homestead, as the same is delineated on the map entitled "Map of Part of the Property of Chas. L. Fitch, Dec'd, known as the Homestead of Mary A. Fitch, set off by order of the Probate Court, April 3rd, 1871, which said order is recorded in Liber 65 of Deeds, page 361, Alameda county," filed April 21st, 1874, in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda county.

Notice to Voters.

REGISTRATION.

Office of the County Clerk of Alameda County, Cal.

Notice is hereby given that all citizens whose names are not now on the Great Register of Alameda county are requested to register in order to be entitled to vote at the next general election in November, 1898.

That owing to failure of the Governor to approve the act unanimously passed by both branches of the last Legislature providing assistance for Clerk it is necessary to begin registration at an early date in order to satisfactorily attend to registration.

That voters who have since the date of the last general election taken up their residence in Alameda county, and those who since that date have removed from precinct in which their name appears on Great Register, must make affidavit in order to have their names placed on Register of precinct in which they now reside.

That it is NOT necessary for voters who registered for the general election of 1896 and whose names appear on the Great Register of 1896 to again make affidavit for registration UNLESS SINCE THE DATE OF LAST REGISTRATION THEY HAVE CHANGED THEIR PLACE OF RESIDENCE.

That registration will continue to and including August 9th, 1898, after which it will cease.

Attention is called to the provisions of Section 1083, which provides that those "who shall have been a resident of the State ONE YEAR next preceding the election, and of the county in which they claim their vote NINETY DAYS, and in the election precinct THIRTY days" are entitled to registration.

Further notice is hereby given that affidavit for registration or transfer may be sworn to before any Deputy County Clerk in the different towns and precincts of the county, or before any Deputy County Assessor, without charge.

Affidavits can also be sworn to before any Justice of the Peace or Notary Public.

Notice is given that after the filing of affidavits, OTHER THAN FOR THE PURPOSES OF TRANSFER, when names are ENTERED on Great Register, postal cards will be sent giving date of entry. If postal is not received, voters should ascertain the reason why.

The office of the County Clerk in the Hall of Records will be, until further notice, open for registration from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. of each day.

Dated April 4, 1898.

FRANK C. JORDAN, County Clerk.

To Be Tried By Jury.

The case of Charles Peterson, charged with disturbing the peace of Dr. Derrick, was called for trial in Judge Allen's court this morning. Attorney Thomas J. Gurrity appeared for the defendant, and after explaining that he had only been employed in the case Saturday, asked to have the case set for jury trial at some future date. The request was granted and the case set for July 26th.

BRUNT OF THE BATTLE BORNE BY THE OREGON.

Story of Officers Who Took Part in the Fight.

The Splendid Warship Bore Off the Honors of the Victory.

SCHLEY'S RACE WITH CERVERA.

A Desperate Running Fight in Which the Brooklyn Was Well Pounded.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 11.—The few officers who came in on the St. Louis, and who participated in the fight with the Spanish cruisers off Santiago, were obliged to tell the whole story of the memorable contest. While in the main their accounts did not differ materially from the press dispatches, yet they seem to give credit to the work of the Oregon.

From an account, as given by one officer, it appears that on the morning of the fight four American warships lay off the entrance to the harbor. The Oregon was slightly to the east; then to the westward came the converted yacht Gloucester, lying between the Oregon and Iowa. To the westward of the Iowa was the Texas, while further along, in fact, eight or ten miles to the west of the harbor, was the Brooklyn with Commodore Schley on board.

The position of the fleet was in keeping with the plan mapped out by Admiral Sampson, and his command had definite orders in case the Spanish fleet made a dash out of the harbor. While all the ships had steam up, none of them, with the exception of the Brooklyn, was under way. The latter had, a few minutes previous to the sighting of the Spaniards, turned away to the westward, and when the first shot was fired from the Iowa she was going away from the fleet at about an eight-knot gait.

Just why the Brooklyn was steaming off to the west at this time is not known, but, although she had not gone far and was still probably quite near the station designated by Admiral Sampson, her commander nevertheless had to swing around, and in doing so he put his helm to starboard and made a long sweep to port, going a mile or more off shore in the manoeuver. The first Spaniard that came rushing out of the harbor's mouth was the Cristobal Colon, with Admiral Cervera on board. The Vizcaya was second, the Almirante Oquedo third and the Maria Teresa fourth, while two torpedo boat destroyers brought up the rear.

While the Iowa got in the first lick at the fleet as they came dashing by, the Oregon was the first American outside the Brooklyn in motion. She gathered headway so fast that she cut in between the Iowa and the fleet and plumped a good thirteen-inch shell at the Colon before she had gone by. The Oregon was, therefore, in a most excellent position to meet the Vizcaya when she came along, and with the help of the Texas, tackled her so fiercely that she was on fire in a few minutes and had headed for the beach.

While the Oregon's whole forward starboard battery was banging at the Vizcaya, the after guns had swung around and were pumping shells into the Oquendo, which also had been tackled by the Iowa, which in the meantime had disposed of the Teresa.

The wreck of the three Spaniards was accomplished in about fifteen or twenty minutes and by this time the Oregon had attained her maximum speed. With her forced draught on and every pound of steam up, the big Pacific Coast battleship ploughed through the water as she never did before, except, perhaps, on her speed trial three years ago.

Leaving the Texas and Iowa to complete the destruction of the remainder of the Spaniards and the rescue of the unfortunate sailors, Captain Clark headed the Oregon after the Colon.

The Brooklyn by this time had taken her wide sweep off shore and was headed in for the Colon, opening up on that vessel with her port broadsides. As the Colon ran by the Brooklyn she gave the latter the benefit of her big guns, and no less than thirty shots took effect on the Brooklyn's port side, a number of them passing clear through the Yankee cruiser.

As the Colon went by the Brooklyn, the latter turned her starboard guns on the Spaniard. In the run up the coast the Brooklyn was hit a dozen times on her starboard side, while all three of her tall smokestacks showed the effect of the Colon's stern chasers.

The superior speed of the Brooklyn and Oregon sealed the fate of the Colon and after a run of forty miles, Admiral Cervera ordered the flagship to be headed for the shore.

The Colon struck about 150 yards from the beach, and as soon as she had grounded Admiral Cervera ordered every one to jump overboard, and plunged into the sea himself, followed by all his officers.

The little Gloucester after destroying the torpedo boat destroyers, turned after the Oregon and made such good time that she was up even with the Colon when she ran ashore. As she drew considerably less water than either the Oregon or Brooklyn, her commander, Lieutenant Commander Wainwright, was able to run in quite close to the stranded Spanish ship, and the Gloucester's boats were sent out after the swimming crew. Admiral Cervera was picked up just outside the surf about ten yards from shore, and after his long swim, was thoroughly exhausted.

The Colon has just turned in shore when the New York came up after a long and quick run. The flagship was enabled to get a dozen good shots before the Colon's flag came down, so that Admiral Sampson had a hand-to-hand fight, although it was a brief one. It will be seen, therefore, that the Oregon, while the most eastern of all the American ships, nevertheless was enabled by her superior speed to have a hand in the destruction of all four of the Spanish cruisers, and was the only one of the fleet that did.

FINE'S TROUBLES LEAD HIM TO JAIL.

He Wanted to See His Wife But the Father-in-Law Objected.

Ollie Fine, a barber, whose place of business is at Eleventh and Franklin streets, was arrested this morning charged with disturbing the peace of Henry Deme.

This is the outcome of a jar which occurred in the Fine household about a week ago, when Fine's wife left him and went to the home of her mother, taking with her the contents of their home. Mrs. Fine claims she was ill treated, and wants Fine to provide for the 9-months-old boy, Evert, which Fine says he is perfectly willing to do.

Last night Fine went to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Deme, at 864 Lydia street, and requested an interview with his wife. Deme, his brother-in-law, refused to let Fine enter, and they had some words, with the result that Fine was arrested as stated above.

The case will come up tomorrow for trial before Judge Allen.

CHRISTENING OF THE HONOIPU.

The four-masted schooner Honoipu was launched and christened Saturday afternoon at 5:25 o'clock. Miss Hinds of San Francisco christened the ship. The vessel is named after the plantation of the young lady's father, which is in the Hawaiian Islands.

Pictures of the launching and christening were taken.

The Honoipu is to be used as a sugar transport between San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands. The captain is W. V. Olson of San Francisco.

LICENSE ORDINANCES WILL BE TESTED.

John Doe Compemenso, charged with violation of the license ordinance, will be tried by a jury in Judge Allen's court tomorrow.

This case has been continued from time to time pending the disposal of the ordinance before the City Council for a special license for beer bottlers. At the last meeting of the Council the proposed ordinance was killed, and now an effort will be made to make these people pay the same license as that paid by saloon men.

Police Court Proceedings.

Joseph Summers and Frank Romus, violators of the bicycle ordinance, forfeited bail in the Police Court this morning.

The cases of Joseph Schwartz and Joseph Bitterly, charged with malicious mischief, were continued to August 11th.

T. J. Barns, a boy about 14 years of age, who was arrested for train jumping, promised to keep away from the trains in the future and was allowed to go.

Conrad Thaler, charged with battering Mary Flaherty, will be tried by the court tomorrow.

Thomas Fox was up for being drunk, but, being connected with the Philadelphia, which will soon sail for Manila, the Judge let him go with the understanding that he would not drink any more till the war was over.

James Morgan, an artist, who was arrested for sleeping in a box car, said his former residence was the City of Mexico and that he was simply passing through here looking for work. He had a complete set of tools and was allowed to go his way.

HARD WORK HAS BEGUN IN THE CAMP.

Private Eckers the First to Answer Death's Call.

San Jose Will Fully Equip Her Boys Who Are in Camp.

The Eighth Regiment is now complete and this morning drilling began in earnest. The lines are now drawn very close around the camp and visitors will not be permitted to take possession of the camp as they have been permitted to do during the past two weeks.

The first death in camp occurred yesterday afternoon. Private J. J. Eckers of Colusa died at the County Infirmary of tuberculosis of the intestines. He was a member of the National Guard and had passed the examination to enter the volunteer service when taken sick, but was never mustered in. His two sisters and brother were at his bedside when death relieved his sufferings. His remains were embalmed and will be forwarded to Maxwell, where they will be buried to-morrow. He was 25 years and 11 months of age, and a native of this State.

Yesterday Captain Baldwin of the San Jose Company named his non-commissioned officers as follows: First Sergeant, H. J. Drake, transferred from Company B; Quartermaster Sergeant, John Stanley; Sergeants—Henry M. Ayer, Walter C. Brown, James L. Orvis; Corporals—Thomas Graham, Alexander Lowe, Wallace Raley, Charles E. Valpy, Albert L. Gossard, William K. Hart.

The San Jose boys will be well supplied. Captain Partridge of the first company was furnished with more knives and forks than were necessary and he turned the surplus over to Company M, so that now all the San Jose boys are supplied with these articles. Captain Partridge has said that if an emergency fund is raised in San Jose he is willing that both companies should share alike. Many in the new company are sadly in want of shoes and the Red Cross Society will probably be called upon to furnish them. They are much pleased with their captain and declare they will soon be the crack company of the regiment.

The Oakland Red Cross Society is going to turn its attention to aiding the men now located at Camp Barrett. The feeding of the incoming soldiers, which has been a very important part of the work of the Oakland ladies, is to be turned over to the San Francisco Society, and the Oakland ladies will watch over the soldiers in Oakland.

There is much to be done at Camp Merritt, for the equipment of the soldiers is anything but complete. The first thing that the ladies of the Red Cross did was to fit up the hospital tent with bureaus and the proper utensils.

NEW YORK REGIMENT TO GO TO HONOLULU.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 11.—The First Regiment of New York Volunteers, under command of Colonel Thomas H. Barber, and consisting of 1,200 men and officers, traveling in three trains, passed through Cheyenne en route to San Francisco. The regiment is under orders to proceed to Honolulu, where it is to be stationed as an army of occupation on the newly acquired island.

The regiment has a splendid looking set of men, well equipped and thoroughly disciplined.

COLONEL HENSHAW IS STILL IN DOUBT.

Nothing is known at Camp Barrett regarding the destination of the Eighth regiment. Colonel Henshaw had not heard that the First New York regiment now en route to the coast had been ordered to Honolulu till informed by a Tribune man.

"I have no idea where we shall be sent," said the Colonel. "I cannot say how much foundation there was for the former statement that my regiment was to go to Honolulu and I know nothing of the destination of the New York regiment. After a week's hard drill we shall be ready to go anywhere."

Examination of Figone.

The examination of Louis Figone will take place tomorrow morning. Figone is the man who struck F. W. Newell in the face with a hatchet last week.

A woman cannot be too careful of her health. Her happiness as maid, wife and mother is dependent upon it. Every woman should realize that her general health depends upon her health in a womanly way. When a woman complains of being sluggish, dizzy, nervous and despondent the average doctor attributes these symptoms to heart trouble, or disorders of the liver. He is not right once in ten times.

When a woman feels this way she is usually suffering from weakness or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all known remedies for suffering women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. Thousands of women who were weak, nervous, fretful and unhappy wives are today happy, healthy, helpful and robust as the result of the use of this marvelous remedy. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. During those years, with the assistance of a staff of able physicians, he has prescribed for many thousands of ailing women. He will gladly, without charge, answer letters from suffering women. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all good medicine dealers and nothing else is "just as good."

Sister Eliza L. de Falcon, of Corpus Christi, Nueces Co., Tex., writes: "This is to tell you that I have been ill for twenty-one years and was finally cured by your medicines, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.' I was completely cured after taking this medicine."

REAR ADMIRAL AMMEN PASSES AWAY TODAY.

A Hero of the Civil War Gone to His Rest.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Rear Admiral Ammen, one of the heroes of the Civil War, died at the Naval Hospital here this morning, aged 78 years. He was an Ohioan. At the reduction of Port Royal in 1861 he held the forts until the army took possession.

DROWNED IN THE COLUMBIA RIVER.

John Reaney, of West Oakland, Meets With a Fatal Accident.

William Reaney of 1210 Peralta street, West Oakland, has received word that his son, John T. Reaney, was drowned in the Columbia river last Wednesday. The young man was in the employ of the Wrangle Commercial Company of Portland, Oregon.

No particulars of the sad accident have been received and at last reports the body had not been recovered. The young man was well known in this city. He was about 24 years of age.

Hamilton & Bourke Suit.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PORTLAND, Or., July 11.—The suit of the Hamilton & Rourke Company against the Hamilton & Rourke warehouse system, which is in effect a suit of the plaintiff for alleged mismanagement of the system while T. F. Rourke was its manager, has been dismissed in Washington and the receiver has been discharged in Oregon. The warehouses of the system, principally on the line of the Washington and Columbia river railroad and the O. R. & N. Co., will therefore be operated by the Hamilton & Rourke warehouse system or its assignee as mortgagee in possession. The real parties in interest and who will finance the business are, it is understood, the Portland Flouring Mills Company and Sibson & Kerr.

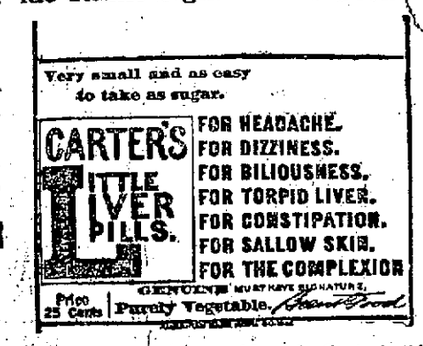

OAKLAND MAY LOSE DR. COYLE.

Rev. Dr. Coyle of the First Presbyterian Church goes East this evening. He has received a call from the Madison-square Church of New York, and his visit is for the purpose of conferring with the trustees as to his acceptance of the call. He will be gone about three weeks, and will reserve his decision until his return.

ROBLEDO WANTS PEACE WITHOUT INTERVENTION.

Says Spain Must Deal Direct With This Country.

The Meddling Powers Would Exact Big Brokerage Commissions.

EL IMPARCIAL SUSTAINS HIM.

An Influential Madrid Paper Says the United States Has No Fear of Europe.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A copy of El Imparcial, issued June 26th, has been received here from Madrid. Discussing the probability of peace negotiations, El Imparcial says:

Senor Romero addressed in his last speech a vehement entreaty to Senor Sagasta that, since the government considers peace indispensable it should negotiate for it directly with the United States.

Of all the factors of the problem of peace, the most serious and decisive is that of the fitness of time and circumstances in which peace is to be made. Next in importance is the factor pointed out by Senor Romero Robledo. Senor Sagasta will have to think seriously over this matter. One more mistake of this kind would bring down on the head of his excellency tremendous responsibilities.

We have tried in vain for three years to point out that war with the United States was the only possible outcome of the war of insurrection. We have worked hard and without any result to induce the government to prepare for this struggle. So futile have been our efforts toward having prompt assistance sent to the Philippines that now that this new question confronts us, we cannot overcome our bitterness and discouragement.

It is said that the present Minister of State is in constant conference with the foreign Ambassadors. The inference is that the subject of these conferences is peace, but considerable haste and marked inexperience may result in just what Senor Romero foresaw and warned against.

Peace with the United States must either be made at the right moment, or it means civil war financial ruin and the loss of liberty. Peace with the United States must either be treated for with that power direct, or Spain will be reduced to the lowest class of nations—the class which, in order to exist at all, needs the protection of Europe.

What will be the opportune moment for peace? The very moment when the army and the people become convinced that there is no other remedy but to sue for it. Before that the army would consider itself humiliated and the people betrayed.

Peace must not be sued for through the intervention of mediators who, as Senor Romero Robledo says with much reason, would make the brokerage come high for us.

The United States would feel more inclined to negotiate in due time a peace that would be honorable for us if we sue for it directly, than if we leave it to the intervention of the powers of Europe, whom the United States has already learned not to fear, and on account of whose intervention she would take pleasure in making harder the terms.

Let us give up what we may have to give, but let us still retain our dignity.

MORE ABOUT DEWEY'S VICTORY.

Martin Mulverhill Writes Entertainingly of the Great Battle.

The Baltimore's Narrow Escape From Destruction By a Mine.

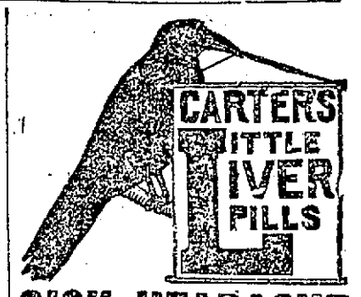

Martin Mulverhill, a gunner on the Baltimore, in Dewey's fleet, has written to his family in Haywards another interesting letter from Manila, from which the following are excerpts:

"Here we are again with a little news. This letter is going to Hong Kong on a filibuster that came here Tuesday with 5,000 rifles for the rebels. We were destroying rifle ammunition in the Navy Yard, but discontinued when we ascertained that all the rebels had rifles which they had hidden in the yard in case of an emergency.

"One cable is cut and the Spaniards are using another one, but I guess we will have control of the works before very long. The rebels keep us informed about the actions of the Spaniards, and at the least alarm up goes the signal and every man goes to quarters, while the great search-light is turned on everything in the harbor.

"The whole fleet fired a salute on the Queen's birthday, and although it sounded like thunder, it was not so heavy as on the 1st of May.

"We are practicing shooting at small boats towed behind the steam launches, and we sink them without any trouble with sub-caliber, that is, a small barrel put in our secondary battery guns. I believe we could put the enemy hors du combat even if they had better and more ships. This may sound rather boastful, but we have some very fine gunners here, also some fine vessels.

"Here is something that was not published and was not noticed in the battle. Some of the fellows on the Raleigh said that there was an explosion that hid us from view, caused by the ship striking a concussion mine. We were not injured because we slipped by just before the torpedo exploded.

"The Baltimore is a very lucky ship. She has passed through storms and typhoons when a ship like the Philadelphia would have turned bottom side up. The United States is feeding us very well now. We have chicken and the finest fish at every meal.

"I will bring home many valuable relics and curiosities which I have gathered here. The American Consul brought a proclamation by the Governor General of the Philippines to the Spanish aboard and read it to the crew, who, after listening attentively gave three hearty cheers for Captain Dyer and the Consul.

"The Spaniards gave a grand ball one night that we were stealing into the harbor, and while at the banquet they were giving toasts and telling how easily they were going to whip us; so certain were they of victory that they had a grand stand erected on shore, so the people could see how easily they would annihilate the Americans.

"At the beginning of the battle one of the torpedo boats got too near the Olympia, but she was put out of commission by one small gun. They singled us out as something to be gotten rid of, but somehow or other they could not get our range because of our expert maneuvering. We were only two boat's lengths from them, but they were too sure, and therefore missed us.

"The first shot fired from the Baltimore hit their flag, but we did not know that was why the Olympia crew were cheering. The six-inch shell that came through the side of the ship just grazed the deck and went through the engine room hatch and brought up against a six-inch gun and put that out of commission, along with six men who were put on the sick list. One of the other shots stopped in the coal bunkers, another entered just a foot above the water line. I remember this one particularly, because I had to patch it up that night, and it occasioned my being in the water for eight hours.

"There was one woman killed in the Navy Yard because she would not go with the rest who were sent away under heavy guard to a place of safety. The rebels killed the men and took the women prisoners.

"We captured a revenue cutter on the 10th. She did not know that we were in possession of the harbor, and was steaming along at a great rate until she finally was brought about by a couple of shots."

A HALLELUJAH WEDDING.

Two Prominent Salvationists Were Married at Trestle Glen.

There was a hallelujah wedding yesterday at Trestle Glen when the well known Salvationist, Captain Highsinger, and Captain Smoot were married. Miss Highsinger has been in the Salvation Army for several years and Captain Smoot's wedding present from the organization was his promotion from lieutenant to captain. The ceremony was performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Evans.

There is a large attendance at the camp meeting of the Salvation Army. Thirty have professed conversion so far.

Prof Rising's European Tour.

BERKELEY, July 11.—A personal letter to A. W. Taylor, president of the Berkeley bank, gives news of the movements of Professor W. B. Rising, dean of the College of Chemistry in the State University.

Professor Rising, who has been for several weeks in London, is about to start for Vienna, which he expects to reach July 25th, going by way of Paris and Germany. In that city he will attend the congress of chemists. After business has been completed he will visit Venice, Florence, Rome and Naples, returning to New York by way of Gibraltar. He will reach Berkeley by the first of August.

Prof. Le Conte Not a Candidate.

The statement that Prof. Joseph Le Conte would succeed Max Goldberg as a member of the Yosemite Commission is declared to be without foundation. The Professor says he has no desire for the place and has not even been thought of as a candidate for the position. His son, J. L. Le Conte, who is instructor in the mechanical department of the State University, may be appointed. The Sierra Club, of which he is a member, is understood to be working in his behalf.
